Michael V. DiSalle Is Sworn In As State's Governor in Capital

KIDNAPED BABY RETURNED. Frank Chionchio, 28, and his wife Frances, 26, shown in a photo taken shortly after their baby was stolen from a Brooklyn hospital, are happy today—the baby was found and has been returned. The child Lisa Rose, was in good health. Police said the baby was kidnapped by a woman identified as Jean Iavarone, 43, a divorcee and mother of seven children. Why she took it was not explained. New York Search Ends

Kidnaped Baby Is Found Alive, Well

NEW YORK (AP) — The kidnaped Chionchio baby was found alive and healthy Sunday night in a Brooklyn apartment. The infant girl had been the object of an intense search since she was snatched from a hospital 2½ hours after her birth nine days ago.

Police and FBI agents, acting on an anonymous tip, located the baby in the second-floor flat of Jean Iavarone, a 43-year-old divorcee and widow with seven living children.

Her apartment is about 1½ miles from St. Peter's Hospital where the child was kidnaped late Jan. 2.

'In Good Condition'

The child was returned to the hospital. Authorities said she was "in good condition." The youngest baby ever kidnaped here, she was taken before her parents had the chance to have her baptized "Lisa Rose."

Mrs. Iavarone denied the kidnaping and claimed the child is hers, police said. They quoted her as saying she had delivered the baby unattended in her apartment Jan. 2.

Chief of Detectives James B. Leggett and J. Kenneth McCabe, chief assistant district attorney of Kings County (Brooklyn), said Mrs. Iavarone would be charged with kidnaping.

McCabe questioned the woman for an hour.

Asked what evidence there was to support the charge, McCabe said the footprints of the Chionchio baby taken shortly after birth match those of the baby found Sunday night.

Says It's Her Baby

He said that footprints, like fingerprints, are only one of a kind.

Telling newsmen of his questioning of Mrs. Iavarone, McCabe said: "She still says it's her baby. She answers questions in a calm voice."

First positive identification of the baby was announced by the FBI, quoting the father, Frank.

Chionchio, 28, a lawyer for the Port of New York Authority, said he recognized the baby on the basis of a "general family resemblance" and a small scar over the left eye he had noticed the night the baby was born.

'Feels Very Happy'

"I feel very happy," Chionchio said as he left the hospital to rejoin his wife, Frances, 26. She has been staying with her parents in Brooklyn.

The blood type of the baby was identical with that of Mrs. Chionchio, the FBI said, but did not correspond to Mrs. Iavarone's.

Car Crashes Into Pole

Two Kenton Residents Killed in Auto Accident

KENTON — A Kenton man and woman were killed instantly early Sunday when the car in which they riding went out of control on Rt. 30-S near Lima and wrapped around a power pole.

The victims were identified as Donald F. Manering, 22, of near Kenton, and Mrs. Constance Jean Crisp 19, of 405 S. Detroit St., Kenton.

DEPUTIES from the Allen County sheriff's department said Mrs Crisp suffered a broken neck and multiple body fractures. Manering, the driver of the auto, sustained a crushed skull, broken neck and multiple body fractures.

Deputies said the auto apparently was traveling at a high rate of speed when the accident occurred at 3:22 a.m. The car was bent like a horseshoe around the heavy power pole. Skid marks were traced for 110 feet near the scene.

The collision not only mangled the car, but knocked down a power transformer disrupting electric current for several hours in the area east of Lima where the crash occurred, officers said.

A lifetime resident of Hardin County, Mr. Manering was a farmer. Born Dec. 19, 1936, in Alger, he was the son of Eria and Helen Shepard Manering of near Kenton who survive. Other survivors are a sister, Mrs. Virginia Sheldon of near Alger, and a niece.

He was a 1954 graduate of McGuffey High School and a member of Pleasant Hill Grange.

Private funeral services will be held Tuesday at 1:30 p.m. in the Hanson Funeral Home at Alger with the Rev. Willard Thomas, pastor of Alger Methodist Church, officiating.

Burial will take place in McDonald-Fairview Cemetery near Kenton.

Mrs. Crisp was born in Hardin County on Aug. 15, 1939, and resided in Kenton her entire life. The daughter of Willis and Virginia Mae Fay, she was a member of the First Baptist Church in Kenton.

—:—

SURVIVING in addition to her parents are her husband, Bernard Eugene Crisp of N. Ida St., and a son, Bernard Eugene Jr., 2. The couple was separated and divorce proceedings had been started.

Also surviving Mrs. Crisp are a sister, Mrs. Cleo Young of Kenton, and two brothers, Richard and Gary Fay of Kenton.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday at 2 p.m. in the Price Funeral Home with burial to follow in Grove Cemetery.

O'Neill Sends Last Message To Assembly

Governor Says State Can End Year With $6,500,000 Surplus

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. C. William O'Neill, in a message filed with the Legislature's clerks less than three hours before he left office, said the state of Ohio today has an unencumbered cash surplus of $35,291,000.

"This money," said O'Neill, "will permit you to meet the cost of government, as well as the additional appropriations that must be made for schools, health care for the aged, and poor relief, and still finish the fiscal year on July 1 with $6,500,000 surplus in the bank."

Figure Disrupted

The incoming administration of Democrat Michael V. DiSalle has disputed this figure and claims that only economies will keep the state in the black. The cash balance at the end of the fiscal year last June 30 totaled $38,156,763.

O'Neill's statement was filed with the clerks of the House and Senate by his press secretary, Hal Conefry. It is required by law and normally is delivered in person.

The outgoing Republican governor said that the predicted balance of eight million dollars would not be reached next June 30 because of the effects of the recession on state's revenues.

New Figure Qualified Also

O'Neill even qualified his $6,500,000 balance prediction with the proviso that there be no new increase in the present level of expenditures before June 30; that no new legislation which costs money be adopted and that there will be no decline in state revenues.

Union To Vote Today on New Pact at Shovel

Members of Local 1949, United Steel Workers, will vote today on a new contract negotiated with the Marion Power Shovel Co. late Friday night.

Ratification will end a long strike which began Sept. 9.

A meeting of the 1,400-member union was scheduled to start in the Steelworkers Hall on Uncapher Ave. at 2 p.m. Union officials who negotiated the contract were expected to recommend its acceptance.

Details of the new contract were not made public pending ratification.

The strike, now in its 17th week, involved the firm's W. Center St. plant only. Contracts with unions in its other plants, and with the office workers, were signed this summer.

Disagreement on a new contract developed in May after the union first accepted, and then rejected, a contract which called for pay increases, a seventh paid holiday, and certain changes in the seniority system.

Negotiations were held throughout the summer and continued after the strike was called Sept. 9. Meetings, with federal mediators present, were held here, in Washington, D. C., Cleveland, and Columbus. Agreement was finally reached by the bargaining committees after an all-day session at the company offices Friday.

Graham Plans New Crusade Around Globe

Evangelist To Ignore Advice of Physicians After Ailment of Eye

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Evangelist Billy Graham went ahead with his plans for a world crusade today in the face of advice by physicians to curtail his activities because of an eye ailment.

Graham told reporters that he intends to go to Australia, Indonesia, Malaya, Cairo, Jerusalem and Berlin this year.

He was interviewed after making a zealous talk before the second Combined Texas Baptist World Missions and State Evangelistic Conference in the packed 11,500-seat Memorial Auditorium. Graham's illness earlier caused him to cancel a scheduled appearance at the Dallas First Baptist Church.

"The program may be cut somewhat by doctor's orders," Graham said of his projected tour, "but right now I plan to go."

He had announced previously he would go to Rochester Tuesday for a check-up at a Mayo clinic instead of leaving for the West Coast en route to Australia.

Graham insisted he felt all right but "there's something wrong with one of my eyes."

"But I don't know what it is," he continued. "The doctor told me what it is — a long technical name — but I think he's as confused as the Republicans are these days."

U.S. Adopting Firm Stand

Ike Set To Resist Mikoyan on Berlin

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower is expected to impress upon Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan this week that the Western allies have no intention of abandoning West Berlin or creating a neutralized Germany.

Eisenhower and Premier Nikita Khrushchev's top deputy will meet at the White House late this week, following further policy discussions between Mikoyan and Secretary of State Dulles.

The Soviet visitor met with both Dulles and Vice President Nixon a week ago before starting his present tour around the country.

Interest in the forthcoming discussions was sharpened over the weekend by two surprise Moscow moves.

1. In notes to the United States and 26 other countries that fought Nazi forces in World War II, the Soviet government proposed a 28-nation conference to meet at Warsaw or Prague in two months to write a German peace treaty. The 12-page note was accompanied by a 25-page detailed outline for a treaty, including provision for withdrawal of Western and Soviet troops from Germany and a ban on German membership in any military alliance. West Germany is a member of NATO.

2. In a second note Saturday night, the Soviet Union called for resumption of East-West talks on the problem of preventing surprise attack in the nuclear missiles age. The United States responded promptly with a statement saying it favors resuming the talks — which broke down at Geneva Dec. 18 — but wants an agreement with the Soviet Union on the range of problems they should deal with.

Both notes were received at the State Department Sunday. But even before the German peace treaty plan came in, officials said on the basis of a Moscow announcement Saturday that it was clearly unacceptable.

One of the provisions of the Soviet plan for Germany was that West Berlin should be converted into an unarmed free city until East and West Germany are reunited. Pending unification, the proposed peace treaty would be made with both the Communist East German regime — which the Western powers have declined to recognize — and the anti-Communist West German regime.

Doyle, Emery Enter Race for Council Posts

A fifth primary election contest was in the making today as two more local residents entered the race for City Council.

Lowell C. Doyle, incumbent Third Ward councilman, took out papers at the board of elections for Republican renomination to the seat he now holds. Kenneth O. Potter, 38, of 927 Bellefontaine Ave. took out papers for the same post last week.

Also obtaining petitions today was LeRoy Emery, 40-year-old president of the Marion County AFL-CIO Council. He is seeking Democratic nomination as councilman at large.

Mr. Doyle, 31, currently is completing his first term on council. A native of Caledonia, he is a material control expediter at the Tecumseh Products Co. and has been a Marion resident for six years. He resides with his wife and two children at 875 Oak Grove Ave.

Mr. Emery is making his first bid for public office. He is a native of Marion and has been employed at the Huber-Warco Co. for about 26 years. He is serving his second year as president of the AFL-CIO Council. Mr. Emery is married and has two daughters. The family resides at 326 N. Greenwood St.

In all, 19 Marionites have taken out papers for nomination to municipal offices.

$255 Missing After Rash of Thefts in City

Churches Are Among Places Entered; Five Other Entries Probed

Burglars broke into nine places, including four churches, in Marion over the weekend and stole money and other valuables totaling more than $255.

With one exception, all the places were broken into by using a large screwdriver to force open doors, desks and filing cabinets, according to police reports. All the marks were about the same size and apparently were made by the same screwdriver, the reports indicated.

The largest theft was at the Emanuel Lutheran Church on S. Prospect St. where the office of the pastor, the Rev. M. E. Hollensen, was broken into and $200 was taken from a cash box.

Police said the building was entered through an unlocked door after which a screwdriver was used to open the door to the office and the cash box.

Only $1 was taken at the Trinity Baptist Church on S. Main St., which was entered sometime Sunday afternoon. The money was taken from a small filing cabinet that was pried open and searched. The break-in was reported at 6:22 p.m. by the pastor, the Rev. J. B. Holloway.

3 Other Ohio Officials Will Start Terms

Donahey, Ferguson, McElroy Take Office, To Serve Four Years

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Michael V. DiSalle became governor of Ohio today, the 55th man to hold the job in 156 years.

The new 51-year-old Democratic chief executive took over from Republican Gov. C. William O'Neill in an outdoor ceremony on the west steps of the Statehouse.

Bright sunshine flooded the throng of 10,000 to 15,000 people who watched the inauguration of the state's first four-year governor in 38-degree temperature.

DiSalle was handed his commission to be governor by Gov. O'Neill. The latter then left the inauguration stand, went inside the building and was on his way to a luncheon date in downtown Columbus while DiSalle was taking the oath of office from Chief Justice Carl V. Weygandt.

First Toledoan To Serve

DiSalle is the first Toledoan ever to become governor.

"I pledge to you all of my efforts; all of my abilities to bring to the people of Ohio the best government possible," DiSalle said in his inauguration speech.

"It is not enough for government to be legal in its conduct. Its acts must be motivated by the highest standards.

"Our problem is how to pull people and programs together without interfering with their God-given rights."

He said great stress must be placed upon education in this age of science, to broaden the daily lives of everyone.

In a reference to taxation, a major problem in the new administration, DiSalle asserted it must achieve uniformity.

Standing hatless in the bright, cool weather on the platform erected to hold about 200 relatives, officials and dignitaries, DiSalle said it still was hard for him to believe that he actually had become governor.

"I am almost beginning to believe that it is true," he began his speech.

"Up until this morning, I just couldn't bring myself to go about preparing an address."

Recalls Previous Despair

DiSalle recalled despair of earlier election defeats, and said that victory was easy to take.

"I want to wish to Gov. O'Neill happiness and success in his future," the new governor said.

In handing DiSalle his commission, O'Neill said: "You are carrying Ohio's progressive banner now. I speak of all Ohio citizens. We like you. We are depending upon you."

Among those on the platform at the oath-taking was Mrs. Frank J. Lausche, wife of the U.S. senator and former governor; state Democratic chairman William Coleman, and mayor Anthony Celebrezze of Cleveland.

50 Already Executed

3,000 Batista Backers Awaiting Trial in Cuba

HAVANA, Cuba (AP)—Executions of the followers of former Dictator Fulgencio Batista are mounting in Cuba as the forces of rebel leader Fidel Castro continue hurry-up military trials.

Thus far about 50 Batista supporters have been executed. Nearly 3,000 are awaiting trial.

Asked on a U.S. television program Sunday why the Batista followers were being executed without open trials, Castro said, "There were not so many . . . two or three dozen criminals."

"They were judged," he said, adding that "if anyone killed 15 or 30 people, he has no right to live."

The interview was recorded in Havana Saturday.

Correspondent Jules DuBois of the Chicago Tribune reported that the mutilated bodies of 160 anti-Batista prisoners were found Sunday in a mass grave on the outskirts of San Cristobal, 60 miles west of Havana.

Military authorities in Manzanillo announced Sunday that Cubans will not be allowed to witness the firing squad executions of Batista supporters. But they will be allowed to see the bodies afterward.

The announcement came after a crowd of 3,000 attended the execution Saturday in Manzanillo of six Batista supporters convicted by a military court. The announcement said public executions do not conform "with our culture."

In the television interview Castro repeatedly insisted that the provisional government is being guided by public opinion and not by force.

Signing First Official Act

DiSalle Ready for Swift Action on Salary Boosts

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Newly inaugurated Gov. Michael V. DiSalle's first official act will be to sign his Cabinet's pay raise bill.

The measure, carrying pay boosts totaling more than $40,000 per year, was not signed by outgoing Gov. C. William O'Neill who received it from the new Democratic controlled Legislature Wednesday.

DiSalle's second act following his noon inauguration, will be to swear in his new Cabinet.

Statute bans salary changes during an official's term, and holdovers from the O'Neill administration, serving term appointments won't get raises.

In declining to act upon the bill, O'Neill said that since his successor had requested it, and the legislature passed it, he felt it was his successor's responsibility to act on the bill as he deemed proper.

At a pre-inauguration cabinet meeting during the weekend, DiSalle made it clear he plans to do something about reported overstaffing in some departments.

"Since personnel is the largest item in the budget, it certainly is going to get the most attention," he said.

DiSalle has set no target date for submitting his budget. James Maloon, finance director-designate, told DiSalle he should not count on surplus from O'Neill's administration and said he does not expect the financial picture to be bright.

Concerning the predicted seven million dollar surplus predicted by the O'Neill administration, DiSalle

Bill To Repeal 'Blue Law' Set For Assembly

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Recent squabbles over retail selling on Sunday may lead to lighter "blue laws" in Ohio.

Present laws prohibit stores to be open on Sunday and a crackdown on their enforcement in Columbus, Cincinnati and Cleveland have created a furor which may lead to revision or repeal in the present legislature.

State Rep. Robert A. Taft Jr., (R-Hamilton) announced Saturday that he plans to introduce a House bill to repeal the law. He described Sunday closing laws now on the books as "unrealistic, outmoded and unenforceable."

Taft, however, made it clear that he was not in favor of repealing the law banning Sunday sales of intoxicating liquors.

Sunday J. Arthur Buckwalter of Washington, D. C., executive director of the International Religious Liberty Assn., labled "blue laws" unconstitutional and un-American.

Buckwalter told a rally here: "Sunday blue laws are nothing more than religious legislation. Any religious legislation is unconstitutional."

He termed the crackdowns as "one of those well-meant, but misguided efforts which do more harm than good."

The minister and editor of Liberty Magazine said: "These laws have no place in a democracy committed to religious freedom and separation of church and state.

2 Landmarks In Bucyrus To Be Torn Down

Old Homes of Hopley, Zeigler Families Are Service Station Sites

BUCYRUS — Two residential landmarks in Bucyrus are expected to be torn down within the next few months to be replaced with Shell Oil Co. service stations.

The company has been issued building permits for $15,000 stations although final options on the properties have not yet been taken.

The landmarks to be razed are the Zeigler homestead at the north edge of the downtown business district on Sandusky Ave. and the Hopley homestead on Hopley Ave., opposite Epworth Methodist Church.

Solicitor Rules

In both cases, City Solicitor Richard L. Cory has ruled the immediate areas as "commercial" sites, making it unnecessary, in his opinion, to obtain permission of property owners for stations within a 300-foot radius of the site.

Early last year, another major oil company dropped its plans to purchase the Hopley property after it was unable to obtain approval of 75 per cent of property owners within a 300-foot radius.

The six-bedroom Hopley homestead as been without occupants since March 1952. Its household furnishings were sold at public auction in October 1957.

Published Newspapers

The Hopley family was active in newspaper and Republican party circles for several decades. The family published the old Evening Telegraph here for many years until it was merged with the Daily Forum in the early 1920's. The house was built about 1900.

The towering, brick Zeigler property was built in the 1880's. It was occupied by Mrs. Anna Zeigler White until her death in September 1957. The Zeigler family for many years operated the Zeigler Milling Co., which is still in operation across the street from the residence.

The fifth annual show will be held Feb. 7 at 8:15 in the Harding High School Auditorium. A full program featuring Marion's "Buckeye Four" quartet, top international and national championship quartets and two choruses is being planned. More than 100 voices will be featured.

1,000th Scout Is Enrolled in Tarhe District

BUCYRUS — John Hazen, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Hazen of Bucyrus, last week became the 1,000th active Boy Scout to register in the Chief Tarhe District of the Harding Area Council. He is a member of Troop 19, sponsored by the Bucyrus First Presbyterian Church.

The 1,000 Scout mark is an all-time high for the district, which includes Crawford and Wyandot counties.

In announcing the registration, Anthony J. Marka, Chief Tarhe District organization chairman, pointed out that new scout units were organized during 1958, making a total of 43 units, comprising 15 Cub Packs, 24 Boy Scout Troops and four Explorer Posts.

Mr. Marks said the following units, and their sponsors, will receive recognition for recruiting four or more boys in the fall round-up:

Troop 19, Bucyrus First Presbyterian Church, Troop 22, Bucyrus Lions Club; Troop 13, Carey Lutheran Church; Troop 28, Harpster Volunteer Fire Department; Troop 41, Bucyrus First Christian Church; Troop 44, Upper Sandusky Trinity United Church of Christ; Troop 58, Carey Methodist Church; Pack 40, Woodlawn EUB Church; Pack 101, Holy Trinity Catholic Church of Bucyrus; Pack 103, Wharton Methodist Church.

Former TV Newscaster's Death Still Under Probe

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Detectives are still at work today, trying to find the answers to some puzzling details in the death last week of Edgar S. Wood, 40, former Columbus television newscaster.

At the same time, police cling to the theory Wood met his death in a fall down a flight of stairs in which he suffered a fractured skull.

Principal items to be cleared up, they said, are what became of his wristwatch, overcoat, money and billfold. Detectives still haven't been able to retrace all of the former broadcaster's steps last Wednesday night and early Thursday.

Vice Probe in Cleveland Hits Police and Fire Departments

CLEVELAND (AP) — Under orders from the mayor to "go all the way," top officials in the police and fire department today investigated a 15-year-old girl's story she had sexual relations with firemen and policemen.

The girl, who ran away from school in Euclid Oct. 3 and was picked up Saturday night, gave a 3½ page statement at Central Police Station Sunday. Now top brass of the police and fire departments are busy trying to sort facts from the fancy the statement contains.

That there is enough truth to be concerned about in her allegations already has been established.

One policeman of only eight months service, James W. Kelly, 24, was stripped of his uniform after he admitted sharing a west side room with the girl last October for a single date. He was held in jail.

Authorities also were impressed with the detailed description the girl gave of an engine house where she said she spent a night with four firemen who were on duty.

Parts of the girl's story jibed with answers police got from Carl Galipo, 21, who was arrested with her. Chief Frank Story said Galipo admitted he took money for selling dates with the runaway girl for prostitution purposes. Galipo said he picked up the girl in a West 25th Street bar shortly after she ran away.

Parents of the girl said she had run away before and that she was given to lying. She is their only child, and they said that since 1956 they had spent $6,000 on medical and psychiatric care for her. They described her as "exceptionally bright."

The child told police she lived with relatives of Galipo and that he found men for her in bars, filling stations and a barber shop. She said they motored to Florida together and also lived for a week in East Liverpool where Galipo worked in an auto wash place and sent her customers. She said she charged $3 for her dates, and complained that while the firemen here paid her, the policemen refused to.

Court Upholds Rule Against Boxing Group

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court today upheld a lower court ruling requiring dissolution of the International Boxing Clubs of New York and Illinois.

The ruling, by U.S. Dist. Judge Sylvester J. Ryan in New York, also held the Madison Square Garden Corp. and its majority stockholders—James D. Norris of New York and Arthur M. Wirtz of Chicago—along with the two clubs had violated the Sherman Anti-trust Law.

Justice Clark delivered the Supreme Court's 5-3 decision. Justice Harlan dissented, joined by Justices Frankfurter and Whittaker. Justice Stewart took no part.

Judge Ryan found the defendants had monopolized interstate commerce in the professional boxing championship field through interlocking corporations, ownership of stadiums, and contracts with boxers.

Norris and Wertz were told to sell their more than 50,000 shares of stock in the Garden, were prohibited from acting as officers of the Garden corporation, and were limited to promoting two championship fights yearly.

They appealed directly to the Supreme Court, asking reversal of Judge Ryan's ruling. Their counsel told the high court Judge Ryan's decree was so severe that a twice-a-week television fight series was jeopardized.

At the age of 8 composer Richard Rodgers had to have an operation to save his right index finger.

Rules in Death Case

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—Coroner Harry E. Elston Jr., has ruled that the death of Malcolm McIver, 52, of Warren, in an auto accident Sunday as due to a heart attack and not to accident injuries. McIver's car rammed the rear of another car at a traffic light on Ohio 5 just west of here.

Radio and Television

By JOHN CROSBY

The Blessing

I have at hand two views of television representing opposite poles each as true as the other and as honest. One is a letter from a woman who loves television. The industry would like to think of her as the typical viewer, which she isn't.

JOHN CROSBY

"If you could tell some of those who make TV possible what it means to many of us. I am housebound seven days and nights each week — for the last two and a half years a prisoner. I raised six children.

"About three years ago, the last of my brood left home. At last I was on my own and free. But my mother became senile and helpless. Here I am again in service to loved ones.

"I live in an isolated rural area, have no near neighbors, and my married children manage a visit a week. Days I have no one to talk to. The phone does not ring. I made my family my world and know no one my age. But TV, what a blessing, what a godsend!

"In the evening when Granny is asleep I turn on TV and what a world of entertainment is mine. Will you find some way to thank them—the whole army that makes TV possible — and tell them what it means to us that are housebound?"

IT IS THAT sort of letter that the broadcaster and the performer and the advertising agency hug to their bosoms, feeling like a mixture of God and Santa Claus, feeling virtuously that this is the best of all possible worlds, and that they are easily the best things in it.

The other view is one that has received some acknowledgment in this space before. It is the speech Edward R. Murrow made to the Association of Radio and Television News Directors which has just been condensed in the current issue of Reader's Digest.

"Our history will be what we make it," said Mr. Murrow in the most telling passage of that speech. "And if there are any historians around 100 years from now, and if the kinescopes for one week of our three networks should be preserved, they will there find in black and white, or in color, an astounding record of decadence, escapism and insulation from the realities of the world in which we live."

MURROW SAID a lot of other things in that speech (and I recommend you go read the whole condensation in The Digest), but I concentrate on that because it is so opposite from the rural lady's view.

"Escapism and insulation" are exactly what my rural correspondent seeks and what she has a right to seek. But we are not all shut-ins and it is criminal negligence of the broadcaster to treat us all as if we were.

In the year just passed, television absorbed a lot of criticism. None of it was so telling as the Murrow speech because Murrow is part of the industry and it is difficult to impugn his motives. I am seriously alarmed by the fact that the motives of the rest of us are being increasingly questioned.

Last fall Fortune magazine printed a survey of television which got the broadcasters literally boiling mad. But it wasn't Fortune's judgment that was assailed; it was the magazine's motives.

All the trade press decided that this article represented the "party line" of the publishers, that the article was simply an attempt to denigrate a competing advertising medium by the Luce empire.

INCREASINGLY, this idea of a "party line" of publishers intent on destroying a competing advertising medium is being used to meet all criticism of television.

You might say that this is the party line of the broadcasters which might be summarized as: "There's nothing the matter with television. It's all a big plot by Luce to scare the advertiser out of television and back to his magazines."

This is ridiculous. No two publishers ever could be found to agree on a party line even one so transparently easy as "I hate television."

Television's critics in the main don't even know each other and the ones that do generally aren't speaking. But the worst thing about this "party line" of the broadcasters is that it makes it easy to assume there's nothing at all the matter with TV, that nothing needs doing, that there's been no loss of quality.

If the broadcaster can comfort himself that the whole thing's a plot to rob him of sponsors, the programs can get worse and worse; the abdication of leadership can become total; the absence of responsibility can become complete.

Takes Place on Board

HOUSTON (AP) — A Negro housewife takes her place on the Houston School Board tonight, the first Negro elected to public office here since Reconstruction days.

Mrs. Charles E. White, wife of an optometrist, will be sworn in on the new board composed of four women and three men.

She polled some 36,000 votes to about 29,000 for the white incumbent, Dr. John Glen, in an election last November.

Houston, the largest school system still segregated in the South, has about 160,000 students enrolled.

Russia Believed To Be Readying Atomic Plane

By VICTOR RIESEL

Shortly after Comrade Mikoyan returned to the U.S.S.R. from the U.S. in 1936, the Russians launched eskimo pies, tomato juice, cornflakes, puffed wheat, grapefruit and frozen corn on the cob. That was the era in which they could learn from us. Times have changed. Within six months after Tovarisch Mikoyan returns this time, the Russians will launch an atomic aircraft. Now we can learn from them.

VICTOR RIESEL

Not that we don't have an atomic aircraft. We have. We have flown a reasonable facsimile at least 47 times. We have run one on the ground in Idaho for a year.

What we can learn from the Russians is how to keep winning in this new era of the international scientific Olympic games.

For example, from the sources who devote their lives to knowing these things comes word that the Russians soon will do us in inner space — propaganda wise.

-:-

THEY WILL LAUNCH an atomic airplane and float it around the world eight or ten times without bringing it down for refueling. They will gently circle Cairo and wing silently over Africa, India and all the doubtful neutrals.

They will then have won the first three big events — the first sputnik, the first lunik and the first aircraft which can fly in inner space forever.

Our industrialists know that the Russians already are practicing with "crew shields" to protect their aviators from the atomic reactor.

They have taken a conventional jet bomber and have added dummy nuclear engines just for weight. They're flying it for experience.

Soon they will replace the dummies with real nuclear engines and fly the plane under nuclear power.

The Russians will beat us, although the General Electric Co. has long developed such an atomic engine at its Evendale plant outside Cincinnati.

There GE could manufacture these engines with their thousands of skilled workers, members of the United Auto Workers and International Assn. of Machinists and their hundreds of engineers.

Under the direction of Executive Vice President Jim Lapierre and Vice President Jack Parker the company has developed the engine after 13 years and a government expenditure of about one million dollars.

GE COULD HAVE put such a plane into the air and impressed the world back in 1953. They were actually cutting the metal for the job. They went to the then Pentagon chief, Charles Wilson. They said they were ready.

He said he can get a chemical an hour, so why waste money on an atomic plane that flies at 300 or 400 miles an hour? He ordered the company to cut about 1,000 workers off the project's 2,000 man staff at Evandale.

The company simply retained its skilled people in other tasks. And they continued developing the engine. They took it out to the Idaho desert and ran it. They put a reactor in a bomber and flew it out of Fort Worth's Carswell Field. They arranged with General Dynamics to build a frame.

They went to the government again in 1957 to get production orders. The Killian Commission was set up. The commission wanted something to go 3,000 miles an hour.

The GE people said that first we crawl in the skies then we fly high. But let's get up there before the Russians do. The commission said "no." That meant a White House veto.

YET ALL that was needed to win this propaganda victory was a little money. Just some 200 million to 400 million dollars. This is less than has gone into unused spare parts for the Yugoslav army. It is less than we have overpaid the French for swampland and for cutting down trees for our bases.

Furthermore, if they had said yes, there still is the feud between the Air Force and the Navy. The Air Force wants the atomic plane launched from an airfield. The Navy wants it to be a seaplane.

There is the battle between the Atomic Energy Commission and the Pentagon, each paying some bills for certain parts of the development in a maze of complicated bookkeeping.

So our atomic motor is a kiwi—a capitalistic kiwi. The workers' state, though Red in politics, has no tolerance for red tape in these scientific Olympic games. It will go aloft first. Where are labor, management, the public and all who can shout?

Why are they not telling the government to take those few hundred million dollars out of boondoggles and put them into a plane to prove that capitalist production can really outdo Socialist production?

Announce Way To Help Drain All 8 Sinus Cavities Without Discomfort
New decongestant tablet for sinus congestion sufferers acts both to drain clogged sinus cavities and relieve distressing head pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) Announcement has been made of a new tablet development which has the remarkable ability to help drain clogged sinus cavities and thus relieve congestion and pressure. The headaches, pressure pains, stuffed-up head, nasal drip, clogged breathing—all the unrelenting symptoms the sinus sufferer knows so well—are attacked directly by improving drainage of the sinus areas.

Most remarkable of all is the fact that this is accomplished with extraordinary speed and without discomfort of any kind. This new tablet does its remarkable work internally, through the blood stream. It deposits into every drop of blood plasma a new medication which is carried to the sinus area, where it shrinks the swollen doors to the sinus cavities and helps drain away the pain-causing pressure and congestion.

The shrinking substance in this new tablet has been so successful topically in promoting drainage of the sinus cavities that it is now prescribed more widely by doctors than any material for this purpose. This new medication is now available at drug counters without the need for a prescription under the name, Dristan® Decongestant Tablets. Dristan Tablets cost only 98¢ for a bottle of 24 tablets. Buy and use Dristan Tablets with the absolute guarantee that they will drain away pain-causing pressure and congestion of the sinus cavities, relieve the pain and distress, or purchase price will be refunded.

We Wonder if They Get the Idea

Tongue-clucking by editorial writers will have no effect on the political mobsters who have been heckling the Mikoyan party. But neither will tongue-clucking by President Eisenhower.

Yet, it is a duty of U.S. citizenship to try to explain to the kind of people who heave rocks and throw eggs to show political displeasure why they're out of line; why it isn't done that way in America.

In America, we betray our heritage of freedom with dignity when we resort to violence in politics. This is true wherever and whenever violence erupts—against an official of the Soviet Union visiting here, against officials of our own government, or among politicians, themselves.

In America we talk things out and make final settlements at the polls with marks on ballots.

In America we do not hold that it is necessary to kill a politician to get rid of him. We send him back home, to become an ordinary citizen again. If he misbehaves, we send him home sooner rather than later.

We aim to have enough confidence in the way we govern ourselves by law so that we are not tempted to take the law into our own hands. We have plugged away a long time at that concept, and we're still plugging. There still is lots of work to be done before we can have a clear conscience.

But in general we have taken violence and strong-arming out of government and politics in the United States and resent their use—particularly by people who are in this country as late-comers and guests.

We wonder if they get the idea sometimes, but it is an obligation to tell them what the idea is, so they will have every opportunity to understand the difference between a country that degenerates into violence over politics and a country that believes violence can be eliminated completely in due time from both national and international politics.

We disagree with everything Anastas Mikoyan and his traveling companions stand for in political ideology, but we do not throw things at them or behave as if we had no respect for the American way of doing things.

It isn't done that way in the United States by people who understand what makes this country different from countries where bloodshed and politics go together.

Russia Concentrated on Rockets

The official announcement of the Soviet Union's latest and most spectacular rocket demonstration contains one passage that every U.S. critic of his country's rocket policy could read with profit.

"The creative toil of the whole Soviet people aimed at the solution of the most important problems of the development of socialist society in the interests of all progressive mankind has made it possible to carry out the first successful interplanetary flight."

Elsewhere, the announcement says the creation of large and heavy satellites always is the fixed aim of the Soviet's rocket program. Its purpose was to prove something — in this instance the strength of socialism in Russia.

If the United States had been as intent on proving something as the Soviet Union, it too could have taken the lead in rockets, in the same way that it took the lead in atom-splitting during World War II. But the United States was not intent on proving anything, except what already had been proved: That its people have the world's highest standard of living.

While the toil of the Soviet people was being applied to the development of cosmic rockets and "socialist society," without the people's consent, the efforts of the American people were being applied to the maintenance of their standard of living. Had it been proposed that they sacrifice rutabagas for cosmic rockets, while continuing to underwrite the rising cost of military hardware, a ballooning bureaucracy and foreign aid, the American people would have cried out that spenders were taking the chickens out of the pots and the new cars out of the garages. They will cry out when it is proposed in the 1959 session of Congress.

The irony is that the Russian people would rather have these things than artificial satellites, but the Russian people are not consulted. Yet, the masters of the Russian people can cover their inability to give the Soviet Union a high standard of living by whooping with pride over the success of a rocket program that produces no benefits for the Russian people.

They are so good at the whooping, moreover, that U.S. officials are put on the defensive by it and forced to apologize for the most envied country on earth.

Russia has scored a press agent's triumph even greater than its satellite success, spectacular as that is.

'One Who Hangs on Too Long'

The contest for political power is always the same, no matter how much it seems to change.

In a country that relies on armed revolution for changing the political guard, the revolutionists always call themselves "liberals" and the defenders always are called "reactionaries."

In the United States, it is pretty much the same. The power struggle in the new Congress is between "liberals" and "reactionaries," as could be expected. But it is more than happenstance that the liberalism of the liberals is tinged with reaction and the conservatism of the reactionaries is tinged with liberalism. The names don't mean anything.

Even the paragons of analysis who claim these days to be able to classify congressmen according to the way they voted are baffled by the criss-crossing of views and opinions.

It raises the question whether "liberal" and "conservative" are used merely to keep opposing factions from getting mixed up in the fray, in the same way that members of opposing teams wear uniforms of a different hue.

Everybody is playing the same game—political power. Rep. Sam Rayburn, Democratic speaker of the House of Representatives, is playing the same game as his old friend, Rep. Joseph Martin, who has been Republican speaker on the rare occasions when "Mister Sam" was out of the game. Each has been under attack by "liberals."

Could it be that in politics "liberals" are the attackers and the 'conservatives" the defenders — and that what they stand for is less important than whether they are in or out of power?

Eventually, new ideas become old ideas, and revolutionists become transformed into the enemies of revolution. Today's "progressives" become tomorrow's reactionaries, longing for the good old days when their ideas were fresh and challenging.

The outs finally get in, whereupon the ins adopt the slogans of the outs and talk about reforms and progressive ideas. The "sons of the wild jackass" bray endlessly in the wilderness, and the "young Turks" come and go. As they grow into "old Turks," however, they try to hang on to their power and their prerogatives. Thus, they become "conservatives"; i.e., one who hangs on too long—the last leaf on the tree.

Other than that, "conservative" has no clear meaning any more. It is as muddy and uncertain as "liberals." It is almost as fuzzy as "progressive." In short, it is a dirty name that politicians call one another when they are in a tussle for political power.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

What is Cyrus S. Eaton, famous American industrialist, to do with three white horses and carriage given him by Nikita Khrushchev?

The team is a three-horse hitch. Everybody knows Cyrus didn't get where he is by doing a Ben Hur act. No cultural exchange program has mentioned horses. He will make no hit in Cleveland streets driving three Russian white steeds around town, even as a gesture in favor of less friction with Soviet Union. He may wind up declaring the gift a Russian act of aggression.

Nikita sent Vladimir Fomen and Nikolei Barkov, a trainer and a horse doctor, over with the animals. This will help Mr. Eaton say, "Giddap," in Russian even if he decides to shout, "Whoa," in English.

But when yelling either command to three horses when they are in a cantankerous mood it takes more than words to get results. It can't be done through a board of directors, a prospectus or a quarterly report of good earnings.

WE WOULD THINK Cyrus would not feel very flattered. How can he be when Nikita sends a super rocket to the moon but thinks three-horse surrey with the fringe on the top will do for America?

The animals are named Otklick, Konish and Naturskikh. (On Otklick, on Konish, on all, with the heat on! To the top of the wall, to the top of the Eaton!) Mr. Mikoyan has paid a visit to Cyrus. Maybe he brought a Curry-comb and some harness oil. The Cleveland capitalist sent Nikita a prize bull) but no toreador costume.)

Mr. Eaton is an industrialist who thinks the U.S. attitude toward the Soviet could well be less chilly and that peace can come only through a warmer association and broader understandings. If those three white skinners bolt in Cleveland traffic, register "Nyet" to "Whoa-a-a-a," bust through a fence and toss Cyrus out on his ear, he may change his mind.

A.T.&T. IS at a new high. This reflects a belief the telephone is here to stay, that more and more women are using it for morning gossip and that the nickel is dead.

Eighty-one N.Y. judges have had pay raised to $34,500 a year. This is one field where it pays to be benched.

Fidel Castro is no revolutionist who came up from the streets. He was born to wealth. The son of a rich sugar planter, he was obviously well able to take his "lumps."

Even with airlines running to Florida again, countless winter tourists are far behind planned schedules. "I can't get there in under four hours and yet be six weeks late," moaned one tourist who had hoped to be in Florida by mid-December. "I can't even remember the horse tips." This is rough. Average Florida vacationist plays the skinners and gets easily thrown off his form by delayed contact.

Tropical tourists like to have their suntans well under way early. We always feel depressed if our skin is still white a week after New Year's and our beezer unblistered with its accustomed speed. The free spender with a sizable boodle feels uncomfortable if he is slowed up in extravagances and can feel heartbroken if he finds he is far behind his 1958 record in torn $50 mutual tickets.

Battle for Judgeship

By Jay G. Hayden

A first-class ruckus over high judicial succession is developing in the wake of the elevation of Potter Stewart from the U.S. Court of Appeals for the 6th Circuit, centering at Cincinnati, to the Supreme Court.

The 6th Circuit embraces Michigan, Ohio, Kentucky and Tennessee. Michigan is currently represented on the court by Chief Justice Charles C. Simons, 82. He was appointed as district judge in Detroit by President Harding in 1923 and advanced to circuit judge by President Hoover in 1932. Associate Justice Thomas F. McAllister, appointed by President Roosevelt in 1941, also is from Michigan.

Ohio had two members of the court previous to the elevation of Justice Stewart. The remaining Ohio member is Florence E. Allen, appointed by Roosevelt in 1934 and now ranking behind only Judge Simons in seniority.

The two other present members of the court are John D. Martin, Jr, of Tennessee, appointed by President Roosevelt in 1940, and Shackelford Miller, Jr, of Kentucky, named by President Truman in 1945.

Thus, of the members of the court today the only Republican appointee is aged Judge Simons.

ALL HANDS AGREE that the successor to Judge Stewart should be an Ohioan. But there are severe political complications. Republicans in the state had split sharply between Donald W. Hornbeck, a Cleveland attorney recommended by defeated Sen. John W. Bricker (an aspirant in his own right) and the defeated candidate for governor, C. William O'Neill.

However, on Friday, Hornbeck, in a letter to Bricker, asked that his name be withdrawn from consideration.

O'Neill during a previous service as state attorney general worked closely with Democratic Gov. Frank J. Lausche, now a U.S. Senator. But a newly elected Democratic U.S. senator, Stephen M. Young, has announced that he would declare an appointment of O'Neill "personally obnoxious," which in normal senate practice means that he would have no chance of confirmation.

Bitterness between the two Democratic senators was emphasized on Jan. 6 when Young marched up for swearing - in all by himself rather than accept the supporting arm of his party colleague, Sen. Lausche, for that function.

Young says Lausche in no way supported him for senator, thereby inferentially backing Bricker.

A possibility for the appointment is Bricker, who as an ex-senator probably could win Senate confirmation regardless of the attitude of the Democratic senatorial incumbents. But Bricker, 65 last September, far exceeds the 60-year age limit President Eisenhower generally has observed in the appointment of judges.

JUDGES ARE eligible to retirement at full pay, either at age 70 or after 10 years of service. That provision obviously militates against initial appointment of judges older than 60.

Peculiarly, as it appeared, the appointment of Bricker would be accepted by both Senators Lausche and Young. This is in consonance with the long established shibboleth that no senator should be denied a profferred meal ticket following defeat at the polls.

The Ohio Republican certainly closest to President Eisenhower is George M. Humphrey, former secretary of the Treasury. However, authoritative administration sources say Humphrey is staying completely out of the court appointment controversy. Particularly, the White House denies that Humphrey is supporting O'Neill for the appointment and was instrumental in securing him a meeting with President Eisenhower.

O'Neill did visit Washington and was a White House visitor.

However, unlike Michigan's defeated gubernatorial nominee, Paul D. Bagwell, the Ohio loser did not get in to see the President.

The reason for O'Neill's exclusion from the President's presence, it is said, is that in an earlier visit with Attorney General Rogers he had disclosed his candidacy for the cirquit court appointment. Whereupon President Eisenhower appears to have been tipped off not to see O'Neill.

Over several years past, efforts have been made to persuade Judge Simons to retire, thereby to make way for appointment of a successor by President Eisenhower. Particularly there was an effort to induce Judge Simons to make way for the appointment of Homer Ferguson to the judicial seat, following his defeat for senatorial re-election in 1954.

But Judge Simons, considering himself still a wholly qualified jurist, is sticking manfully to his post.

Conservatives in Control

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

This will be a busy, interesting and probably productive Congress. It is unlikely to seem spectacular if only because very little ever does in the grinding legislative mill.

It will be self-conscious, perhaps just a little less conservative than the previous Congress and, despite plenty of conflict, its personal relations with President Eisenhower may not curdle very much.

Democrats and Republicans in this Congress can not help being self-conscious: Its two-year term will be drawing to a close at the time of the 1960 elections when voters choose a new Congress and a new president.

BOTH GROUPS know their performance these next two years will be a major factor in the election outcome — for themselves and their party — and that the next president may be chosen from this Congress.

It hardly seems in the cards for this heavily Democratic Congress to get into feuding, name-calling and bitterness with Eisenhower in his last two White House years.

During his first six years his relations with Congress members have been unusually polite and restrained, except in political campaigns. There does not seem much reason to change.

For this reason: Without resorting to slam-bang, the Democrats were still able to win control of Congress in three successive elections while Eisenhower himself remained highly popular.

NEVERTHELESS, there will be broad conflicts between Eisenhower and the Democrats in Congress on the programs he wants and the kind they want.

Some people thought, after last November's elections, that this would be a much more liberal Congress than last year. But in the first showdowns on strength this year conservatives showed they are still in charge.

In the Senate, a coalition of liberals from both parties lost heavily in their first test of strength in a fight over the rules.

LIBERAL REPUBLICANS on opening day tried to name one of their own number their Senate leader, but they were defeated by a majority of conservative Republicans who picked Sen.. Everett Dirksen of Illinois.

House Republicans are still under conservative leadership. They were simply replacing an older man with a younger one when they substituted Rep. Charles Halleck of Indiana for their old time leader, Rep. Joseph Martin of Massachusetts.

The two Texans who lead the Democrats in Congress—Speaker Sam Rayburn and Sen. Lyndon Johnson, are both conservative. So are a majority of the Democrats who are committee chairmen in both houses.

Still, the voters sent a lot of new men to Congress this year, some of whom are expected to take the liberal side. So, while liberals are not in the majority, their ranks have been strengthened.

THEY SHOULD be able to exert some pressure. Particularly Sen. Johnson is not likely to ignore them. Even though he out-maneuvered them on the rules change he is still making some concessions to them.

He is a great compromiser, anxious to have his big Democratic majority work together as much as possible.

He yields a little to each of the opposing groups to reach a kind of middle ground. This may not satisfy either side completely, but still shows some movement without leaving either completely dissatisfied.

I Envy My Dog

By Frank Tripp

It helps a lot for one to say aloud to himself quite often, "Life has been mighty kind to me." Sort of year 'round days of gratitude for friends, opportunity and for life itself.

It beats lamenting, "Why did this have to happen to me?" It keeps the brighter side of life before us, makes for peace of soul and is recognition that we are not masters of our fate.

If we were, nothing unpleasant ever would happen to us. All would be as we wish it; which would be lovely, if none of us had our wish at the expense of others.

It is craving and coveting the same things that cause most of the grief in the world. So many wanting the same wealth, power, fame —or woman.

THE GREATEST things in life are plentiful and free. Greedy man has put them secondary among his aims. He tries to buy them, win them in wars, wrest them from the weak and helpless. Peace is one of them.

All that men do is reallocate God's plan; harness His creations, imitate them, turn them into synthetic wealth — then fight each other to monpolize them.

Man does all with things that existed when he lives in caves: the ores, forests, petroleum, the atom; nature's endless list. He created none of them — and is forgetting Who did.

Man has come to think of peace as a hiatus between wars. A period of time when other nations or other people, by force or coercion, are driven into agreement with him, admission of his power and submission to his will. That is not real peace.

The peace that man ignores has existed always. All that he does is disturb it. Then, like Humpty Dumpty, can't put it together again.

True peace cannot be bought or won by strife. It is patience, acceptance of others, of life as given to us; tranquility of mind, unawareness of evil.

Our Cokey has that peace, curled up before me on a rug.

WHY SHOULD a little black dog have more peace than I? Because the peace within her has never been disturbed by knowledge, doubt and worry.

Man wrecks his peace by concern about the direful things he knows could happen. Worry is as great an enemy of peace as is war. Cokey's peace cannot be man's. He has learned too much.

Cokey knows no doubt or worry. She knows only love, loyalty, trust and happiness. Her life is beautiful.

So, I envy my dog. Must be because she knows so little about humans. Yet she likes people more than dogs. She trusts them because none has been unkind to her. Some dogs have, but she doesn't try to rule them; she avoids them. Smart dog!

She seems to say to me every day, "Life has been mighty kind to me." She has repaid with kindness and example that shames. Her trust and loyalty make me ashamed of man and what he has done with knowledge.

Cokey enjoys the true peace, and she'll never be educated out of it. Which is what has happened to mankind.

Even ignorance has its reward; for, in a big sense, peace is ignorance. Cokey makes me wonder if God didn't intend it that way.

Harding Girls Organize Pep Club for Basketball

Form Colorful Cheering Section Composed Of 121 Coeds

By JUNE ROSEBERRY
Marion Star Education Editor

One hundred and twenty-one coeds at Harding High School have gone collegiate, organizing a flashy cheering block for home basketball games.

Dressed in the school's red and black colors, the girls stimulate cheering among Harding rooters and add a distinctive touch of novelty and glamour to the ballgame.

These enthusiastic boosters take their cues from the cheerleaders. The two groups yell together but movements in the block H are usually much different from those done by the cheering squad.

—:—

ONLY TWO months old, the new Pep Club has wasted little time in streamlining its organization and sparking new formations. Already the coeds have developed movements or formations for 11 cheers and the school fight song.

At Friday night's game with Elyria, their victory formation was done for the first time. This game marked the block's third public performance, according to Miss Marian Hendricks, adviser and girls' gymnastics instructor at the high school.

Getting the proper effect in seating, dress and movements didn't happen overnight as any sports enthusiast can observe by watching the girls go through their routines.

According to Miss Hendricks, seating was the first big problem, once the block was organized in early December.

Since an overcrowded class schedule ruled out meeting during the school day, the 236 hopeful block members braved the early morning hours to meet at 7:30 a.m. in the beginning. Thereafter rehearsals have been held Wednesdays and Fridays at 8 a.m.

With rigid practice and attendance rules set up, many of the girls became ineligible to continue membership due to absences. The block finally was whittled down to 121 coeds and 10 alternates.

—:—

AT BASKETBALL games, the girls form a square, 11 persons wide and 11 rows deep. Seniors form the H at the center of the block, wearing red blouses. The remaining girls filling in the body of the square are strikingly attired in black blouses.

Other than blouses, the outfit for the 121 students is the same. It includes black skirts, white gloves, black shoes and white socks.

One of their most frequently-displayed formations is the "H" for Harding. Red-bloused seniors stand up, making the letter framed in black by the coeds still seated in the block.

Another common sight is white gloved hands flashing from side to side in an arc as the cheerleaders go through their paces in the locomotive yell.

Developing the various movements to complement the cheerleaders' efforts was the job of a small group of seniors who formed the executive committee. Elected from among the block members, they worked with Miss Hendricks in figuring out what formations and movements would best accompany a particular cheer. The job became nearly as complex as creating choreography for a dance, according to Miss Hendricks.

—:—

MEMBERS OF the senior executive committee are: Jill Howser, Susan Rohr, Linda McCurdy, Lynn Greetham and Sue Eicher.

Each of the 11 rows has a row captain responsible for checking attendance and maintaining discipline. Like the executive committee, the row captains were elected by popular vote.

They are Candy Cox, head row captain; Judy Nelson, Mary Vande Water, Barbara Anderson, Betsy Selanders, Angela Reams, Janice Isaly, Carolyn Isaly, Nancy Swistak, Mae Gallena and Kathy Steerman.

Since the Pep Club has no source of revenue to finance transportation at the present time, members appear only at home basketball games. The only article of the outfit that each girl had to purchase was her Ivy League style blouse in the appropriate color. Because the group functions only as a cheering block, it undertakes no other activities.

Food Fact Exhibit Is Shown at School

The first of five exhibits from the American Medical Association to be sent to the city's high schools this year is on display at Marion Catholic High School this week.

Entitled "Food Facts and Fallacies," the current poster series, along with the other four groups, was brought here through the Mary Elizabeth Smith Foundation Fund established in June of 1958.

At that time a check for $250 was received from the foundation to provide exhibits and teaching aids in the fields of health and science at both high schools.

The current display will remain in Marion until the end of this week. It was on exhibit at Harding last week.

Remaining groups to be brought here, the expected dates and titles are: Feb. 2-14, "You Can Reduce"; March 2-14, "Home Accidents"; April 6-18, "Appendicitis," and May 4-16, "Your Bones and Muscles."

Members of the local committee who made the poster selections were: Thomas Bain, Mrs. Mary Reeser, Thomas Shields, Miss Marian Hendricks, Dale Davison, Darl Gatchell, Cecil W. Gabler, Robert S. Brown, Dr. Thomas N. Quilter, Sister Frances Angela, Max Ross and Ray Robbins.

Workshop for Teachers Scheduled Here Jan. 26

"Evaluation of Learning" will be the theme for the annual teachers workshop to be held Monday, Jan. 26, at Harding High School, David Miller, chairman, reported today.

Students in public schools will not attend class that day since their instructors will attend the workshop program throughout the day.

The opening session will feature Prof. Alexender Frazier of Ohio State University's experimental primary and secondary school. He will discuss "Kinds of Learning."

During the remainder of the day teachers will attend discussion groups and clinics on a variety of subjects.

Novel Prizes Stir Interest in School Contest

If students at Glenoood fail to enter the safety and fire prevention poster contest now in progress, it certainly won't be because the prizes lack appeal.

A total of 22 novelty awards lie in store for the winners in the five classifications, according to Floyd Hofacker, principal.

The youngster whose poster is judged best will become principal for a day. The honor of teacher for a day will go to a child in each room whose artistic contribution has won highest acclaim.

For the first prize in the fire prevention classification, a student in the grades 1-3 division and another in the grades 4-6 group will eat dinner with city firemen.

In the younger age section the second place winner in fire prevention will enoy an equally exciting experience—blowing a siren on a fire truck.

The best safety slogan poster in both age groups will merit a visit to the police station and a ride in a police cruiser for the winner. The student in both groups placing second with his safety slogan poster will be treated to a visit at the county jail.

The honor of lieutenant for the next school year will be bestowed upon two fifth graders who devise the best safety patrol slogans on their posters.

The top entries in the railroad safety area among both class brackets will win a trip to the Erie Railroad roundhouse.

Mr. Hofacker noted that other awards will include 7 first prize ribbons and 2 second prize ribbons for posters expressing an idea in the most original manner. All entries must be submitted by Jan. 21. They must be on 12 by 18 inch paper in chalk, crayon or watercolor.

Career Day Program Scheduled for Mar. 10

The date for the annual Harding High School Career Day has been set for March 10, school officials reported today.

The first in a series of planning sessions for the vocational program will be held Wednesday, Feb. 4, at 7:30 p.m. in the School Administration Building.

Representatives of service clubs, professional groups, labor and the Chamber of Commerce will attend the session to help lay plans for obtaining speakers in the various areas of student career interest.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann: I love to knit. My husband says this is a sign of a weak mind. He claims anyone who can sit for hours and do the same thing over and over must be slightly feeble-minded.

This burns me up, especially when he does some rather peculiar things and thinks nothing of it.

During the football season he had the TV tured to one game and the radio tuned in on another. He ran from the living room to the sun porch and acted excited. I knew good and well he didn't know what was going on either place.

During the elections he pulled the same stuff. When I asked him who was winning in New York he said 'Vanderbilt." (He knew it was somebody with loads of money but that was all.)

I'd appreciate it if you'd say something in print about this. I'm getting fed up with his attacks on my mentality just because I like to knit,—especially when his behavior is so o d d. — PORT CHESTERETTE.

-:-

Knitting is not a sign of a weak mind. It requires skill and can be extremely intricate. Any woman who can knit a argyle sock has my undying admiration. During the war I knit two pairs of simple GI sox and was politely told I could do my country a great service if I knit for the Germans.

I don't agree that your husband's behavior indicates he's unbalanced. Giving the appearance of taking in two activities at once makes him feel superior. The fact that he falls between the chairs and gets very little from either doesn't enter his mind.

"Overly busy" people have hungry egos. They're interested not so much in achievement, as the illusion of efficiency created by organized confusion. With such a man, a little compliment can go a long way. Try it.

Open Door Best Policy

Dear Ann Landers: Please forgive me for not signing my name to this letter but there's enough trouble in our family as it is.

How can I get it through my 14-year-old's head that she should not entertain boy friends in a room with the door closed—even if they are only dancing?

She keeps telling me if I trusted her it wouldn't make any difference if the door was open or closed. How about this, Ann? Am I square? If you can give me something in the paper to show her I'd be grateful. These days parents need all the help they can get. Please hurry.—WEAK MOTHER.

-:-

Dear Weak: Teen-agers who are ONLY dancing should have no objections to the open door policy.

Insist she respect your judgment and stick to your guns. Explain that this has nothing to do with trust. It is a matter of good taste.

You can demonstrate your confidence by keeping busy in another part of the house when she has guests. Make yourself scarce and she'll be less inclined to "shut you out."

Learned Too Late

Dear Ann Landers: I am not writing for advice—you've already advised me. But like a fool, I didn't listen. I'm writing in hopes that I can save someone else a broken heart.

I was one of those women who thought she was different — too smart to be caught in a mess. I wasn't the type. I learned too late, Ann, that love doesn't pick types.

I gave myself, body and soul to a married man. He deceived me into believing nothing could keep us apart. I made him the center of my universe. Nothing else mattered.

Then one fine day he told me we'd have to see each other "less" because the situation at home was getting shaky and he couldn't afford to have trouble with his family.

I knew this was the end. In plain English it meant his wife and children came first. And why shouldn't they? Why was I too stupid to see it?

Did you know, Ann, you can actually feel it when your heart breaks?—ONE WHO KNOWS.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Marion Star enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Vote on Incorporation

LORAIN, Ohio (AP)—Sheffield Twp. voters decide today whether to incorporate Clearview Village, south of here. There are 1,655 eligible voters for the special election. If the proposal is approved, a village with a population of about 4,500 and an area of 3.28 square miles would be created. It would have an estimated tax valuation of more than 12 million dollars. Last Nov. 4 the township voted overwhelmingly against annexing the entire area to the city of Lorain. The committee which promoted the Clearview Village incorporation said it is "the only possible means of stopping piecemeal annexation" by Lorain.

Airline Starts Flights, Strike By Pilots Ends

WASHINGTON (AP) — American Airlines planned to resume half its flights today under a new contract that could earn $28,440 a year for some jet pilots.

The contract, approved Sunday, ended the last in a series of national airline strikes.

Since October, walkouts have disrupted flights by Eastern Air Lines, Trans World Airlines, Capital Airlines and American at various times.

After the 22-day American strike ended, the company immediately started partial service. A full schedule of flights was expected Tuesday.

The Air Line Pilots Assn., which called the strike against American, estimated the settlement would net its 1,500 pilots a 15 per cent pay increase and a total of five million dollars in retroactive pay. The contract dates back to August 1957.

A union spokesman said the captain of a Boeing-707 jet, which American plans to start using later this month, could earn $28,440 a year. A Convair captain, the spokesman added, could earn $17,892 a year. The old contract would have given him $15,288 a year.

American, before the strike began Dec. 19, had offered a pay increase of 10 per cent, the union spokesman said.

The new contract also provides a third pilot for jet crews. Current piston plane crews comprise two pilots and one flight engineer.

The strike cost an estimated loss of 33 million dollars to the company, its suppliers and their employes.

American is a member of a mutual aid pact of six airlines. Under this agreement, the airlines hand a struck pact member the revenue from any extra business they attract because of the strike.

New Inquiries Due on U.S. Stand in Space Race With Russia

Rep. Brooks Is in Favor of House Action

Louisiana Democrat Will Head Congress Committee on Space

WASHINGTON (AP)—The question of where the United States stands in the space race with the Soviet Union will come under renewed congressional inquiry this session.

Rep. Overton Brooks (D-La), prospective chairman of the new House Space Committee, said today he could not yet speak for the House group since it had not been officially organized nor his chairmanship confirmed.

However, Brooks said, "I personally would favor holding hearings."

Speaks in Interview

The Louisiana Democrat spoke in an interview against a background of conflict over whether this country is lagging in the space contest and whether it should step up its effort.

The temporary House Space Committee of the last Congress, headed by Democratic Leader John W. McCormack (Mass), issued a final report over the weekend picturing the Soviets as perhaps 1½ years or more ahead of the United States in space progress.

The space committee saw America's extinction as the likely cost of Soviet victory in the space race. Calling for the utmost national effort, it quoted estimates that even with a thoroughgoing program it will take the United States "at least five years to close the gap."

Nixon's View Differs

Vice President Nixon holds a different view, according to information given newsmen Sunday.

Nixon, who sits in top strategy councils, says the United States is ahead of the Soviet Union in developing military missiles and is catching up fast in other phases of the space race.

Nixon does not think more money can be spent wisely on satellites. He blames on the previous Democratic administration what he says is a lag of several years in a U.S. start on developing big rocket engines. Under a massive effort now, he says, this country is fast overtaking the Soviets in rocket power and satellites.

TODAY'S ALMANAC

Sun rose at 7:53 a.m. and sets at 5:27 p.m.

HIGHLIGHT OF WINTER. Continuing cold weather in Marion County suits these youngsters fine. Dale Averill of 629 E. Church St., taking advantage of the cold, flooded his back yard for the benefit of neighborhood ice skaters and has found the "rink" not wanting for would-be skating champs. The mercury hit a high of 24 Saturday, sank to an overnight low of 7, then got back to 31 Sunday. The low this morning was 13, but the mercury stood at 31 at noon today, with a high of 42 anticipated. Tonight's low of 30 and Tuesday's high of 42 may spell an end to the sport being so happily indulged in here.

Marion Area Auto Mishaps

Richard Cusick, 37, of near Prospect was hospitalized Saturday night with injuries suffered when the car he was driving slammed into the rear of a parked pickup truck on County Rd. 122.

Sheriff's deputies said the northbound car swerved out of control after hitting the rear of a truck owned by Harry W. Hoch, 67, of near Prospect at about 7:30 p.m. The car careened into a utility pole on the west wide of the road, deputies said.

Mr. Cusick is reported in "good" condition at General Hospital today with head and chest injuries and cuts and bruises. Deputies said the Cusick car was extensively damaged. The rear and left side of the truck also were damaged.

Eight Accidents in City

One person was injured in one of eight traffic accidents investigated by Marion police over the weekend. Hurt in a collision at Indiana and S. Seffner avenues at 9:46 a.m. Sunday was Lois Ann Roberts, 47, of near Marion. She suffered bruises but required no immediate melical attention.

She was the driver of a car which collided with another car driven by Myron Giller, 33, of 755 E. Church St., police said. They arrested Giller on a charge of driving without a license.

A car driven by W. H. Trafzer, 29, of 729 Fair Park Ave. struck a parked car in the 200 block of E. Fairground St. at 12:33 a.m. Sunday. The parked car was owned by the Safety Cab Co. and the driver was Clarence L. Livermore, 41, of 425 W. Rips Mikoyan Visit

CLEVELAND (AP) — Msgr. Edward A. Halloran, Cleveland Diocesan director of the Holy Name Society, deplored Sunday the visit here last Wednesday of Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan.. Msgr. Holloran told about 1,000 delegates to the Society's 10th annual convention that "it was no friendly visit on Mikoyan's part or on the part of Russia. In true Trojan horse style, he took advantage of the opportunity to inspect our industrial plants, to learn the know-how of our industrial genius that it might be used against us at their pleasure."

Record Registration

950 Enrolled for Adult Education Classes Here

Advance registrations in the Marion Adult Education Program have reached an all-time high of 950, Emil J. Lisak, program director, reported today.

He said additional registrations may be made yet this week on the opening night of classes. The director requested, however, that those interested in Thursday night classes, sign up by Wednesday noon.

The annual 10-week program will be launched here with Tuesday night classes starting at 7 p.m. with the payment of fees. A registration desk will be set up near the main entrance to Harding High School Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday nights.

—:—

FEES MAY BE paid there. Room assignments for a particular class also will be made at that time.

Mr. Lisak said that only 3 of the 52 courses originally scheduled have been scratched from the list due to insufficient registrations. They are consumer buying, world and current affairs and theater appreciation.

Registrations in tailoring and welding already are closed. He noted that some vacancies still remain in the Thursday typing class, but the Tuesday section is filled.

Due to the demand for sewing instruction, a third section has been added. This will be offered Wednesday night at Edison Junior High School with additional registrations being accepted. The Tuesday and Thursday night sewing classes are closed, however.

—:—

RANKING HIGH in popularity among the new courses offered this year were interior decorating and football officiating. Both classes will be split to reduce the student number.

With 52 registrants, the interior decorating class will meet both Tuesday and Wednesday night. All those enrolled should report Tuesday night for assignment to their particular section, Mr. Lisak said.

The football officiating course with 43 registrants, already has been divided into two sections with students notified as to the night they will take instructions.

Late registrations should be made by telephoning 2-0235, the vocational department at the high school.

Thefts in City

Nothing was found missing from the First EUB Church on S. Prospect St. where the office was entered and the desk drawers were forced open and were searched by the burglar, according to the report to police by the Rev. John Searle, pastor of the church.

The other church broken into was the First Presbyterian Church on S. Prospect St. where $1.50 was found missing from a soft drink machine that was pried open. A small fireproof safe and filing cabinet in an office off the pastor's study had been forced open and searched but nothing was found missing.

A total of $33.75 was stolen from the office of Dr. Albert D. Kapcar at 196 S. Main St. The outside door to the waiting room and an inner-door from the waiting room into the main office had been pried open. The money was taken from a desk drawer that was pried open. A filing cabinet also was forced open and searched but nothing apparently was taken. The office was closed at 2:45 p.m. Saturday and the burglary was discovered about 9 a.m. today.

Also broken into were three offices in the Cummin Building at the southeast corner of E. Center and State streets.

Clifford Orians of 570 Pearl St., building custodian, discovered a break-in at the office of the International Association of Machinists, Local 1281, and reported it to police at 3:56 p.m.

Police said the burglary occurred sometime after 1 p.m. Sunday and that the office apparently was entered through an unlocked door after which a soft drink machine was forced open and the money and some soft drinks were taken from it. Three filing cabinets in the office also were forced open but nothing apparently was taken from them.

Two other offices police found had been entered were the Buckeye Materials Co. office and the Marion County Welfare Department offices. Nothing was found missing in either place although desks and filing cabinets in both were forced open.

The other burglary was at a service station on Silver St. at the Pennsylvania Railroad. It was discovered by city police when they found two rear windows broken out. The owner, Walter Christian, said that some candy and gum and $16 worth of bus tickets were taken. Mr. Christian also reported that someone has been stealing gasoline from his city buses parked at the rear of the service station on the weekends. He said some 20 gallons were stolen over the weekend. And he said also that a total of 12 windows has been shot out of the buses with an air rifle or pellet gun.

Salary

said: "Seven million dollars does not amount to much in a billion dollar state operation. You could fritter that away overnight. We are not about to start frittering."

At the weekend meeting, new Highway Director Everett S. Preston said a department inventory is under way and that construction this year would depend on the available funds.

He said the 16 consultant contracts recently negotiated by the out-going administration will be examined very closely.

Preston said the department apparently had a number of non-essential employes.

Jerry Poston of Dayton, public relations and personnel assistant to DiSalle, said a highway publicity staff would be at least halved. He also questioned the need for several publicity firms costing an estimated $100,000. He added that the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation has negotiated with several Hollywood people on a film costing about $40,000.

"We must distinguish between public relations and propaganda," DiSalle observed. "a better purpose will be served if we have fewer pictures of officials."

Dies in Minnesota

ST. PAUL (AP) — A former Cleveland and Fostoria, Ohio, doctor, Dr. Thomas W. Geoghegan, 57, died here Saturday of a heart attack. He came here last year to head the regional blood center. Dr. Geoghegan practiced more than 30 years in Fostoria and was head of the Cleveland Blood Center before coming here.

Not Guilty Pleas Are Entered for 11 Indicted by Jurors

Pleas of not guilty were entered in Common Pleas Court this morning for 11 of 12 persons indicted on criminal charges Friday by the grand jury.

The only person not appearing for arraignment was 22-year-old Chester A. Jones of Ashley. Charged with assault with intent to rob, he is serving a 1 to 20-year sentence in the Mansfield Reformatory for violating probation after an earlier indictment on an auto theft charge.

Judge Paul D. Smith increased to $5,000 the bond of Kenneth E. Benson, 18, of 129 Fairview St. He was indicted on a charge of breaking and entering. His bond was increased when sheriff's deputies received word that he is wanted in Knox County on a breaking and entering charge.

Court officials said attorneys will be appointed this afternoon and Tuesday for Benson and these other defendants listed with the charges against them:

Clarence Adkins, 31, of 495 Park St., robbery; Warren R. Rowland Jr., 25, of 1012 Bryant St., Harry L. Armstrong Jr., 19, of 478 W. Columbia St and James M. Jackson, 33, of 750 Fairfield St., breaking and entering; and Glendon W. Kight, 24, of 256½ W. Columbia St. and Robert Short, 18, of near Cardington, auto theft.

Carter Patton was appointed by the court to represent Ethobert Brammer, 25, of 650 Emerson Ave., charged with fraud.

These other defendants listed with their charges, have retained the following attorneys:

Opal Valodin, 38, of 135 E. Farming St., robbery, (William Wiedemann); William Delauder, 40, of 582 E. Mark St, contributing to the delinquency of a minor and two counts of felonious assault, (Frank Wiedemann), and Lowell H. Cray, 23, of 124 Forest Lawn Blvd., assault with intent to rape (Paul Simpson).

8-State Hunt Pressed For 2 Missing Students

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP) — An eight states search continued today for two young women, one the daughter of the U.S. ambassador to Argentina, who have been missing from the Rhode Island School of Design since Friday.

They are Joan Beaulac, 19, daughter of Ambassador and Mrs. Willard L. Beaulac of Pawtucket, and Linda Talbot, whose widowed mother resides at Woodstock, Vt.

A school official said Joan apparently took with her only a small suitcase and a copy of the Declaration of Independence that had been hanging on a wall of her room.

Senate Fight Continues on Rule Change

Group Bids To Amend Johnson Resolution On Limiting Debate

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate starts voting today on specific proposals to make it easier to choke off filibusters.

Up for action at the outset was a proposed change in Senate rules to allow a majority of the Senate, or 50 of the 98 members, to cut off a filibuster after 15 days.

Under present rules, it takes the votes of 66 senators, or two-thirds of all 98 senators, to halt a filibuster and force an issue to a vote.

Offered by Douglas

The proposal for debate limitation by majority vote was offered by Sen. Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill) for a coalition of Northern and Western senators led by himself and Sens. Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn), Jacob K. Javits (R-NY) and Clifford P. Case (R-NJ).

It was in the form of an amendment to a resolution by Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas under which filibusters could be shut off by two-thirds of the senators present and voting.

Even before the vote on the Douglas amendment, its sponsors conceded it had virtually no chance of adoption. But they had higher hopes for another amendment by Sen. Thurston Morton (R-Ky), which would allow a debate cutoff by three-fifths of the senators present and voting.

Sees Chance of Passage

Case said he believes the three-fifths figure has a real chance of adoption, and Vice President Nixon was represented during the weekend as believing that it stands a better chance of Senate approval than any other.

But Sen. Everett Dirksen (R-Ill) the new Senate GOP leader, said in a television interview Sunday he expects Johnson's proposal to be adopted. He said he based that view on checks with members of both parties.

Both Dirksen and Sen. Mike Mansfield (D-Mont), the assistant Democratic leader, predicted also the present Congress will pass some civil rights legislation, but did not say what they expected.

Johnson's resolution has the backing of top Senate leaders of both parties, except for Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel (R-Calif), the new GOP whip, or assistant leader.

It was designed as a compromise between Southern senators opposed to any change in the present rule and the coalition of Northern and Western senators demanding debate limitation by majority vote.

On a first test vote on Friday, antifilibuster forces went down to defeat by lopsided 60-36 count.

Traffic Cases

Eight traffic cases were disposed of in Marion Municipal Court Friday. Charges, drivers and penalties follow.

No driver's license: David L. Cotner, 57, of Carey, $15 and costs, (suspended); Thomas J. Ballinger, 24, of 741 N. Main St., $15 and costs, (suspended).

Miscellaneous: Clyde E. Martin, 28, of Gettysburg, Ohio, $100 and costs, five days in jail, three years' susension of driver's license, driving while intoxicated; Walter Smith Jr. 36, of Middletown, forfeited a $50 bond, failure to pay highway use tax; Dennis John Kin, 20, of near Upper Sandusky, forfeited a $100 bond, failure to stay on state route, illegal use of farm truck; Clyde F. Forry, 46, of Morral, $15 and costs, speeding; Norman W. Richardson, 27, of 461 N. Grand Ave., $15 and costs, parking on the highway; Rocco C. Many Assist Family After Fire Strikes

The generosity of Marion area residents was amply displayed during the last week in contributions to the Harmony Starcher family whose Fountain St. home was ruined by fire last Tuesday.

Mr. Starcher, who is a city sanitation department employe, reported to city police today that he would like personally to thank the individuals and organizations that contributed food, money, clothing and furniture but that there were so many of them he didn't know where all the items came from.

The Starcher's new home at 1135 Herbert St. has been completely furnished by donations from numerous organizations and individuals in the city and county, police reported.

Police Patrolman Harold Morris said that he took some boxes of clothing and other items to the family early this morning and that Mr. Starcher reported they now have all they need in the way of furniture and clothing.

All the family's possessions were destroyed in the fire last Tuesday, police reported.

Police Reports

Thefts of purses, money and other items from houses and gasoline and hub caps from parked cars were reported to police over the weekend.

—:—

Saturday afternoon police found a purse on S. Grand Ave. belonging to Barbara Henderson of 360 Hane Ave. Checking with her they learned that the purse was taken from a closet in her residence and that the house apparently was entered sometime between 2 and 7 a.m. through an unlocked door. She said three bottles of beer also were stolen from the refrigerator.

—:—

Bernard Gallagher of 510 Darlington Ct. reported that some 10 gallons of gasoline valued at $3 were stolen from his car parked at his residence.

—:—

Donald Leonhart of 222 N. Seffner Ave. reported that his residence was entered Friday night through an unlocked door and $8 and his car keys and some papers were taken from a desk drawer that was searched. Two women's purses also were stolen from the house, he reported.

—:—

Scipio Myers of 625 Universal A. reported that some one entered his residence, apparently through an unlocked door, sometime before 6:30 p.m. Sunday. Nothing was found missing, he said.

—:—

James Stewart of 641 E. Mark St., reported at 9:30 a.m. that all four hub caps were stolen from his car parked in the garage at his residence. He said a tire and wheel also were stolen from the trunk. He valued the tire and wheel at $20 and did not list the value of the hub caps.

—:—

Theresa Columbus, 13, of 183 Frederick St. was bitten on the left hand by a dog while she played in the yard at her home Sunday. She was treated for the injury at Marion General Hospital at 7:54 p.m.

Bank Reports 15,000 Attend Its Open House

An estimated 15,000 persons attended the Saturday open house of the Marion Plaza branch of the National City Bank.

Robert White, bank president, said this morning that response to the open house "exceeded our fondest expectations."

Feature attraction from 1:30 to 4:30 p.m. was Flippo, the WBNS Television clown, who passed out 7,000 pictures of himself, as well as 3,500 balloons.

The new branch bank, the company's sixth in Marion County, opened its doors to a solid stream of people who came to see its ultra - modern accommodations and appointments. Some 60 bouquets from well wishers in Marion and neighboring communities filled the building, about half of which were planters designed for permanent installation in the bank.

Richard Langdon, manager of the Plaza branch, was on hand to welcome guests, as well as Mr. White and Dale Schmidt, cashier of the parent National City Bank.

Visiting banking dignitaries included O. E. Anderson and Howard Sturgeon of Columbus, secretary and assistant secretary, respectively, of the Ohio Bankers Association; Arthur Wright of Worthington, past president of the OBA and now president of the Worthington Savings Bank, and Mrs. Wright; John Wallace of Willard, vice president of the state association; Ray Anderson and his staff of the bank in Sidney, O.; Herbert Roebuck and Leslie Gordon of the National City Bank of Cleveland; Paul Carey of the Huntington National Bank, Columbus; Jules Blicke and R. E. Widman, executive vice president and cashier, respectively, of the Bucyrus City Bank; Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Jones of the Hayden-Miller brokerage house in Cleveland; and Mr. and Mrs. William Kuhn of the Shelby Citizens Bank, Shelby, O.

In addition, representatives of all Marion's banks and building and loan associations were on hand.

The National City firm now has branches in Waldo, Prospect, Green Camp and Caledonia, besides the West Town and Plaza branches and the home bank on N. Main St.

Youth Injured As Auto Runs Into Big Truck

DELAWARE — A Marysville area youth was hospitalized in one of three weekend accidents reported today by state patrolmen of the Delaware post.

Officers said Douglas Thompson, 18, was taken to Union County Memorial Hospital in a Ferguson ambulance from Plain City. His car slammed into the back of a trailer - tractor combination early Sunday, was wedged under the truck and carried 150 feet.

Thompson sustained multiple lacerations of the face and neck and a bump on the head.

Patrolmen said the accident occurred on Rt. 42 five and one-half miles south of the Delaware County line in Union County at 12:30 a.m.

The southwestbound combination driven by Paul E. Friley, 34, of Akron had stopped for a traffic light when Thompson's auto approached and crashed into the rear of the truck, officers explained.

Both vehicles were considerably damaged. Thompson was charged with failure to stop within assured clear distance.

A Columbus driver escaped injury when his southbound car was forced off Rt. 23 just south of the Marion County line in Delaware County at 4:05 p.m. Saturday.

Patrolmen said Charles H. Holley, 33, told them he wa attempting to pass another car when the latter vehicle crowded him off the road by driving left of center.

The Holley auto plowed through 30 feet of fence owned by John Roberts of near Waldo. Both the fence and the vehicle were considerably damaged.

Delaware County Rd. 10, eight and one-half miles south of Delaware, was the scene of the third accident Saturday at 6:30 p.m.

Patrolmen said northbound cars involved were driven by Norman R. Edgerly, 45, of near Sunbury and George T. Perry, 22, of near Westerville.

According to the report, the collision occurred when the Edgerly vehicle was attempting to pass the Perry car on the right as Perry started to negotiate a right turn.

Legion's Polio Project Brings $1,377 to Drive

Joseph Casey, chairman of the local March of Dimes campaign, today accepted a check for $1,377 from Burton Riley, commander of Bird-McGinnis Post 162, American Legion, and Fred Thacker, project chairman of the Legion's annual Polio Road Block.

This sum represents the contributions of Marion motorists collected by more than 100 legionnaires who voluntarily braved the wintry blasts of last Saturday to man the seven road blocks located throughout the city. Amounts collected at each location are as follows: Rt. 95, east, $225; Rt. 23, south, $255.64; Rt. 4, south, $177; Rt. 739, west, $150 87; Rt. 23, north, $176 30; Rt. 30, east, $193.72; Rt. 30, west, $198 47.

Some of the men worked all day in the freezing weather.

A grand total of $1,382 was collected but $5 was lost through a freak incident. A motorist who contributed a $5 bill at the N. Main St. road block failed to see it taken up by the wind. The bill stuck to his windshield and, although the legionnaires followed him into the city, the bill couldn't be found.

Committees for next year's project have already been appointed, according to Commander Riley. Jerry Wynn, active in Legion functions, has been selected to head the committee. He will be assisted by Fred Thacker, this year's chairman. There will be a regular Legion meeting at Post 162 on Bellefontaine Ave. Tuesday, Mr. Riley announced.

Edward Pfeiffer, Union president, noted that the current membership campaign will be over in about two weeks and said it was likely that the goal of 300 farm families will be exceeded.

The next meeting was set for Jan. 29 at 8 p.m. in the UAW-CIO Hall on Leader St.

Peter Pollack's Photographic History Makes Good Reading

By W. G. ROGERS
Associated Press Book Critic

THE PICTURE HISTORY OF PHOTOGRAPHY from the Earliest Beginnings to the Present Day. By Peter Pollack, Abrams, $17.50.

An uncle of I. N. Phelps Stokes in Paris over a century ago met Daguerre and came back to exclaim fondly to his father about "a man there who polishes a plate of metal so that when you look at it your likeness remains on it." The father replied: "My son, if you are weak enough to believe such a thing, you ought to have sense enough not to tell it."

When Stokes told it in 1915 in his "Iconography of Manhattan Island," it was already funny. Now it is ridiculous, and the best proof of it at the moment is this far-ranging book by Pollack. We never hear any more the old argument—yes, but is it art? Indeed we find in these fascinating pages some reproductions which, like some favorite great paintings, have assumed a fixed place in our memories as if they were formative, visual, esthetic experiences. As clear in your mind's eye as, say, a specific Rouault "King" or a Picasso cubist canvas are such masterly portraits as Nadar's Baudelaire and Steichen's Morgan, to mention only this one field of work.

Paris started it, whether it was Niepce or Daguerre alone or as partners. Atget followed them, there were Hill, Adamson and Julia Cameron in Britain. But the United States—New York, Chicago and many other centers—can point to a roster of splendid names whether we go back to Morse, Brady and Eakins, or note two who got their start in Paris, Man Ray and Berenice Abbott, or pick at random such names as Stieglitz, Weston, Adams, Duncan, Bourke-White.

You could like this book if you just read the text, or if you just look at the pictures; when you do both, it can't be beat.

Ohio Secretary of State Ted Brown Takes Oath

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Secretary of State Ted W. Brown, the only Republican re-elected to a state executive office, was given the oath of office at 11 a.m. today by Supreme Court Judge Kingsley A. Taft.

The ceremonies were held in Brown's office, with members of his family, his staff and friends present.

The Brown family Bible, more than a century old, and used by Brown when he was sworn in as county recorder of Clark County and as secretary of state four times previously, was held by his daughter Sherrie.

It was turned to Proverbs XV:33; "The fear of the Lord is the instruction of wisdom; and before honor is humility."

Revive Family of 4

An improperly vented gas-fired water boiler for the heating system of their home at 3217 East Erie Ave. was blamed for the poisoning of Mrs. Michael Abraham, 35, and her children, Michele, 8; Kathy, 5, and John, 2. The father, owner of a motor sales business, did not appear to have been affected.

Ohio's Accidental Death Toll Hits 18 on Weekend

By The Associated Press

Only Boots, the little family dog, is still alive from a fire that killed seven members of a suburban Cincinnati family in the most tragic accident in Ohio over the weekend.

The parents, both in the mid 30s, and their children, ages 2 to 9, were trapped in their fire-swept home Sunday morning.

The accident sent Ohio's weekend accidental death toll up sharply. An Associated Press survey covering the period between 6 p. m. Friday and Midnight Sunday shows 18 persons dead from accidents. Eight died in fires, including the Cincinnati family, six died in traffic mishaps and four were killed in miscellaneous accidents.

Victims of the miscellaneous accidents included a man who fell down a flight of stairs in Cincinnati, another who was shot while hunting, another who drowned in the Ohio River and a man who fell from a ladder while replacing a light bulb.

Dog Pound Nears Finish in Bucyrus

BUCYRUS — A new Crawford County dog pound, an oil-heated building of block and concrete, is nearing completion at the county fairgrounds here.

The $6,624 cost of the building is being financed with dog licenses, Dog Warden Howard Miller of Crestline reported today.

The building is being constructed by Don Young, Bucyrus contractor. Exterior work has been completed and the building is expected to be ready for use within about a month.

County commissioners pointed out that Ohio law provides for the transfer of all money in excess of $10,000 from the dog and kennel fund of the county at the end of each year. The balance is the amount remaining from license fees after sheep and poultry killing claims and other expenses have been met.

The excess, during the last five years has amounted to about $25,000, the commissioners said.

Examinations for First Semester To Be Given

Final examinations for the first semester will be given in all county high schools this week. Tests are scheduled for next week at Harding and Marion Catholic high schools.

Every county building except LaRue and Waldo will give two-period exams in each subject on Thursday and Friday. At LaRue and Waldo the battery of finals will be distributed over the entire week, beginning today.

The practice of excusing students with high scholastic standings from examinations will be followed at Prospect High School, Clyde Forry, superintendent, reported.

Red Cross Blood Program Is Now Ten Years Old

Many Lives Saved Since Vital Project Was Started Here

Celebrating the 10th anniversary of its volunteer blood program this month, the Red Cross chapter here can look back with pride on the role blood donors have played in saving the lives of thousands of local citizens during the decade.

A total of 18,331 pints of blood have been contributed by public spirited residents in the 10-year period. And the blood program has mushroomed into one of the most important free services a community can offer.

But along with growth of the volunteer blood movement has come an ever increasing need for additional blood to help man wage a successful battle for life against disease and injury.

—:—

TO REPLENISH the depleted blood supply at Marion General Hospital, 160 pints are needed during each visit of the bloodmobile here this year, Glenn Keller, chairman of the Red Cross project, reported today.

With local blood supplies drained, Marion has been forced to turn to the reserves of other communities under the blood program.

Operations and other illnesses here required the use of 2,412 pints at the local hospital during 1958, but only 1,768 pints were donated in Marion to meet the demand.

Red Cross officials plan to conduct an extensive campaign to make 1959 a red-letter year for donations, particularly because this represents the 10th anniversary of the volunteer program here.

The first of 13 bloodmobile visits to the chapter house on Mt. Vernon Ave. will come Wednesday from 11:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Parking and babysitting facilities will be available for donors. On Thursday the mobile unit will be stationed at Whirlpool Corp. where the quota again will be 160 pints.

SIGNS UP FOR 35TH DONATION. Miss Irene Reynolds of 212 Cummins Ave. (left) signs up to donate her 35th pint of blood given here since the Red Cross bloodmobile program started 10 years ago in January. Mrs. Alfreda Gast, Red Cross secretary, writes down the appointment for a visit to the chapter house Wednesday. Miss Reynolds is one of few local residents who have won the honor of membership in the Four Gallon Club by regular donations throughout the 10-year period. She was among donors when the bloodmobile made its first visit here in 1949. The local chapter, in observing its 10th anniversary of the volunteer project, is aiming for high collections not only this week but throughout the year to bolster Marion General Hospital's depleted blood supply.

Appointments for the Thursday visit are being handled through Whirlpool, but those for the chapter house visit Wednesday may be made by telephoning 2-1653.

WHY IS THE blood supply depleted so fast: The answer lies in part in the fact that a large number of operations are performed at the hospital, considering the size of the community.

Not only the number of surgical cases but the type contribute to the great demand for blood. Dr. Floyd Yeager, chief surgeon at the hospital, reports that every type of operation is done here except brain surgery.

Heart, lung and liver operations are just a few of the many delicate surgery cases which require large quantities of blood.

And emergencies resulting from an accident or serious illness require blood not the next day, but immediately.

It is not unusual for some accident or injury victims to take eight pints of blood. If a stockpile of the serum of the type required is not available at the hospital, donors must be recruited and quickly.

Miss Lillian Plack, executive secretary of the Red Cross chapter here, recalls a case last month in which eight pints were needed late at night to save the life of a young woman seriously injured in a local accident.

To make the necessary blood available, Miss Plack had to rout people out of bed in some cases, but the donors reached the hospital in time for their blood to help save the woman's life, she said.

WORKING UNDER an emergency "spur of the moment" system such as this can be dangerous, especially if any widescale disaster should occur. The best security to insure blood in time of emergency, explained Miss Plack, is an ample supply of the serum contributed by donors during visits of the bloodmobile.

History records interesting changes in the blood program here since it was initiated. On the first bloodmobile visit Jan. 20, 1949, a total of 92 pints was collected. Many of the donors were members of the Marion Academy of Medicine.

Miss Plack reports that donations now run higher, but usually fail to meet the 160 pint quota of each visit. The local chapter has never met its yearly quota.

The highest industrial collections here were contributed at the Marion Engineer Depot in 1957 and at a public collection in 1955. Depot employes gave 226 pints and Marionites at the chapter house gave 202 in these cases far exceeding the quotas.

The collection centers were located at the Epworth Methodist and First Presbyterian churches, but with purchase of the chapter house on Mt. Vernon Ave. operations were moved there.

Committee members in charge of organizing the program 10 years ago and their chairmanships were: Charlton Myers, chapter chairman; James E. Mautz, blood program chairman; Louis B. Coukle, recruitment; Dr. Daniel Murphy, the medical advisory committee; the late David Isaly, facilities; Mrs. C. W. Sawyer, volunteers, and Mrs. J. H. Harmon, publicity.

Through the years many donors have returned frequently to offer blood. Twelve now hold membership in the 4-gallon club and 29 in the 3-gallon club.

Donors in the first visit here 10 years ago have been mailed personal invitations to give again this January in recognition of the anniversary, Miss Plack said.

Rhode Island became the first state to formally accept Decoration Day as a legal holiday. It did so in 1874.

Harding and Marion Catholic Drop Cage Games

Worthington Sinks Prexy Squad 62-44

Harding High School dropped its fifth cage decision Saturday night at Worthington, absorbing a 62-44 setback.

It was the fourth straight setback for the Prexies and evened their season record at five wins against five losses.

Excessive fouling by the Harding players, excessive turnovers and lack of rebounding all combined to make the task easier for the Worthington squad.

A TOTAL of 30 fouls was charged against Harding's cagers while Worthington drew only 12 infractions. As a result, the winners piled up 26 points at the charity stripe.

Worthington spurted into a 5-0 lead before Harding found the range. Bob Middleton then fired in three straight field goals to give the Prexies a 6-5 lead but Davidson knotted the count on a free throw and Warren Harding fired in a set shot from the corner for a Worthington lead. Paul Cressor tied the count but Hopper dropped in a foul shot for a 9-8 Worthington lead after the first quarter. Seven of Harding's turnovers came during the first eight minutes.

Davidson fired in three points to start the second stanza but Middleton dropped in three straight foul shots and Mike Chamberlain hit on a jump shot to shove Harding into a 13-12 lead with five minutes left in the half. Two straight field goals by Hopper gave the Cardinals a 16-13 lead and Harding trailed from that point. The half ended with Worthington holding a 22-18 lead.

—:—

COACH Don Knodel changed his lineup for the second half but the Cardinals outscored Harding 17-11 to hike their margin to 39-29 at the start of the final eight minutes. The Prexies lost the services of George Kirk when he drew his fifth foul with 24 seconds left in the third stanza.

The Presidents finished the contest with a 25 per cent shooting average from the floor, hitting on only 15 of 59 shots. At the foul line, Harding connected on 14 of 19 for a 74 per cent mark.

Middleton finished as the big gun for Harding with 17 points while Paul Cressor was next in line with 8. Hopper scored 18 to spark the winning attack with Davidson firing in 12 and Lowman finishing with 12.

Using a press and a fast-break attack, the Harding reserves recorded a 46-38 victory in the preliminary contest. The losers were limited to nine field goals by the Vice Presidents' press.

—:—

NED PORTER, connecting on 7 of 10 shots, topped the attack with 17 points while Pete Porietis added 8. Jones had 13 for the losers and Morrow netted 10.

The Harding squad will be in action only once this week, meeting Sandusky here Friday night in a Buckeye Conference clash. Knodel, who admitted his charges did not play good ball at Worthington said the team would be given today off and then "start all over Tuesday."

East Grabs 28-21 Win In Pro Bowl

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Billy Wade, who missed the most valuable player award by a fourth quarter pass interception, today took the blame for the West's 21-28 loss in the annual Pro Bowl football game.

But West Coach Weeb Ewbank and his fellow players don't consider the lanky Los Angeles Ram quarterback the goat of Sunday's rough and tumble battle before 72,250 Memorial Coliseum fans.

"We beat ourselves through mistakes," said Ewbank, coach of the world champion Baltimore Colts.

"It was my fault," insisted Wade after the East turned the interception into a field goal and later scored a game-winning touchdown.

Wanted Quick Yardage

"I knew it was risky to pass from my own 13, but I wanted to pick up some yardage and then stay on the ground," said dejected Billy.

"I threw that pass right where I wanted it," Wade said in the dressing room. "But Walt Michaels (of Cleveland) backed into it and stole it."

Moments before, Wade had marched the West 80 yards for a touchdown and a 21-16 lead in the see-saw struggle among the elite of the National Football League.

"Forget it, Bill. You did everything I asked you to do," said Ewbank. "You moved the ball on them."

After the interception, the East settled for a 25-yard field goal by Cleveland's Lou Groza.

Then, with less than three minutes to go, Philadelphia's Norm Van Brocklin rallied the East for a 70-yard touchdown drive.

Frank Gifford of the New York giants, who beat out Wade for most valuable player, said, "I knew we had the plays. I was just worried about getting possession of that ball toward the finish. But our defense took it away from them and that's all we needed."

Lenny Moore of the Colts set up the first West touchdown by racing 37 yards to the one. Two plays later, Colt fullback Alan Ameche plunged over.

Throws to Schnelker

Later in the opening quarter, Gifford's 22-yard pass to Bob Schnelker of the Giants put the ball in position for Groza's first 25-yard field goal.

Just before the first quarter ended, Gifford passed to Giant Alex Webster, who grabbed the ball on the West 17 and raced over for the score.

The lead changed again when Wade directed the West 77 yards in 12 plays. The payoff was a pass to Hugh McElhenny of the San Francisco 49ers, who wiggled 20 yards to the end zone.

But the East, led by little Eddie LeBaron of Washington, bounced back for a touchdown and a 16-14 halftime lead. The East went 74 yards with LeBaron passing the last seven to Gern Nagler of the Chicago Cardinals.

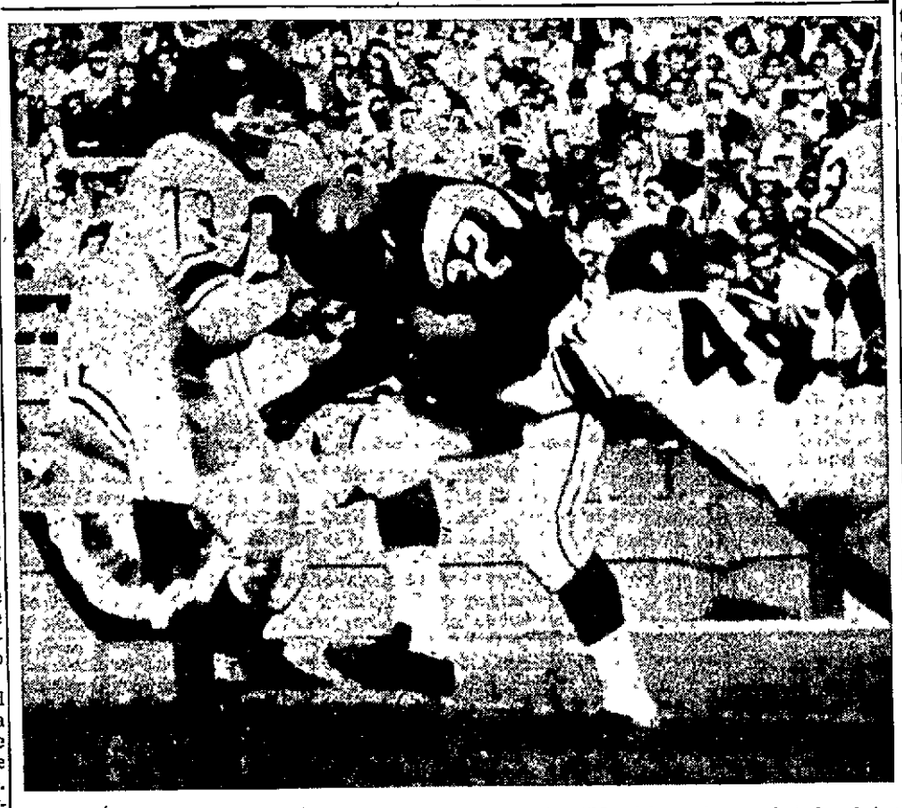
It was the fourth victory in the nine meetings for the east.

Four Teams Share Lead In Tri-County Cage Play

Teams in the Tri-County League will be shooting to break a four-way tie for the league lead in this week's play.

Hunt Milling, Waldo Supply, Nevada and Gulliford Hardware currently share the lead with 4-1 records. Waldo and Hunt will clash tonight at Richwood in the second game. Wilson's meet Pleasant in the opener at 7 p.m. Wednesday night games will send Nevada into action against Twin Sunoco in the opener with LaRue meeting Gulliford in the nightcap.

Maizie Berglund of Lisbon, N.D., bowled a 460 series four straight weeks.



BROWN BLASTS LINE. Jim Brown, player of the year in the NFL, picks up two yards before being hauled down by Western stars, Les Richter (48) of Los Angeles and Leo Nomellini (73) of San Francisco during Sunday's Pro Bowl battle at Los Angeles. The Eastern team, coached by Jim Lee Howell of New York, recorded a 28-21 victory. (UPI Telephoto)

Red Schoendienst Offered 1959 Pact

ST. LOUIS (AP) —Red Schoendienst probably will not play for the Milwaukee Braves this year, but two club officials are to visit the veteran second baseman today to negotiate a contract.

Schoendienst has tuberculosis. He has been a patient at Mount St. Rose Hospital for two months.

Executive Vice President Birdie Tebbetts and Gen. Mgr. John Quinn of the Braves are to meet with Schoendienst.

"It is pretty safe to assume," said Tebbetts, "it will be a very fair contract. We are going to negotiate it on the basis that Red is going to play next season, just as if we are sitting in his own home."

Tebbetts and Quinn also will get a report on Schoendienst's condition.

Irish Beaten 60-47 By Aquinas Squad

By ALLAN BOVEY

The momentum of victory, attained so illustriously by Marion Catholic Friday night in its 69-64 triumph over Crestline, availed the Irish naught Saturday, and visiting Columbus Aquinas downed the cagers of Coach Ray Robbins 60-47.

It was the eighth loss for the Robbinsmen against one win, while the Terriers of Elwood Petchel hung up their fourth decision against three defeats.

Columbus, rolling in 24 goals and 12 free throws in all, led at the quarter 14-11, had a 28-21 halftime advantage, and were in the van by a 41-32 count going into the finale. Marion Catholic hit for 19 completions from the field and 9 at the free throw line for respective percentages of 35 and 50.

The Robbinsmen, after posting 11 points in the initial frame, got 10 in the second, 11 in the third and 15 to wind things up. Terrier ballhawks, with 14 to their credit at quarter's end, got 14 more in the second stanza, managed 13 in the third quarter and then blistered the Irish hoop for 19 to put the fracas on ice in the showdown session.

Brightest light in the Irish attack was Paul Hurney, whose efforts against Crestline accounted for 30 points. Against Aquinas, Hurney, whose 220 pounds makes him a factor to be reckoned with by opposing defensivemen, rimmed Terrier buckets for 9 goals and 4 free throws for 22 points. The big sophomore also turned in another of his fast improving floor games, accounting for a good share of Irish rebounds.

Second high for Marion was Ted Anderson with six points.

High scorer for the game, however, was Aquinas' Bruce Brown, who went Hurney 2 points better by getting 10 goals and 4 charity completions for 24 points. Frank Schneider added 15, while Mike Momberg posted 8.

The Robbinsmen played the first quarter as if the fire that helped consume Crestline still lurked in the Irish boiler. Columbus scored first on a goal by Brown, but Tom Rish dumped one in to knot the count at 2-2. A free throw by Hurney gave Marion a 3-2 lead and Harry Traugh hiked the count to 5-2 with a goal.

Brown's free throw and goal knotted the count at 5-5 with 3:44 on the clock. Hurney goaled to make it 7-5, but Ed Powell's corner shot made it 7-7 at 3:13. Anderson hit for Marion and it was 7-5. Jim Hatfield tied it up at 9-9 but Dennis Dickerson rolled one in to give the Robbinsmen an 11-9 advantage. Again it was Hatfield to make it 11-11.

Schneider dumped in a free throw to break the tie at 12-11 and Momberg arched a goal in from the corner to make the score 14-11 at the quarter. Marion never regained the lead thereafter.

The Terriers exhibited a well-balanced attack as well as some rebounding skill that robbed the Irish of the ball time after time. Still, the Robbinsmen trailed by only 7 points at 28-21 at halftime.

Marion played a control - style game in the third quarter but suddenly developed "turnoveritis," which the Terriers took advantage of to climb into a 41-32 lead.

In the fourth period, the Robbinsmen, trailing by 13 points at 49-36 with 5:14 left to play, found the range long enough for Duane Isom to get a free throw and Dennis Blue and Hurney to roll in goals. With 4:00 flat showing on the clock the Irish had cut the Terrier lead to 8 points at 49-41 and Marion Catholic fans foresaw a rally that might put the Robbinsmen in the lead.

But, at that point scoring rigor mortis set in and the Irish got nary a tally while Aquinas basketeers banged in 9 point sto stretch their advantage to 17 digits at 58-41.

Aquinas reserves had little trouble with the Irish frosh, taking that contest by a 55-25 tally. The Terrier pups led 8-6 at the quarter, 23-10 at intermission, and 39-19 after three sessions of action.

'Y' Swimmers Manage Split In 4 Matches

Four Marion "Y" tank squads were in action Saturday and gained an even split in league meets with the unbeaten girl's team downing a host Lima YMCA team 105-85 and the midget team making a bid for league honors by beating Columbus "Y" in a thriller 27-23.

On the debit side was the loss to Columbus by the juniors 62-15 and in a very close meet decided by inches in the final relays the Columbus preps edged Marion 47-30.

Marion's open age group girls swept every event to pile up the winning margin as only Mary Isaly and Cheryl Ruppart were winners in the age group swimming in addition to the relay win by Candy Carnes, Janet Harris, Isaly and Ruppart for girls 12 years and under.

A pair of wins by Jay Casey and a breaststroke sweep by Eric Ruppart and Ed Baxter led the midgets to their first win although they still needed the win by the medley team of Casey, Ruppart, Jim Casey and Tim Byrnes.

The prep team dropped the meet that could decide the league champs by inches in the medley and freestyle relays where a split would have given the locals a victory. Tom Shambaugh was a double winner for the locals breaking the team record in the 100 yard individual medley while John Murray and Chubby Wettergreen were other local winners.

The Columbus juniors outclassed a small five-man Marion squad to establish themselves as the team to beat for league honors.

Next Saturday all five Marion aquatic squads travel to the Toledo "Y" to meet a combined YMCA-YWCA team in league matches.

YMCA's Wrestlers Defeat Huntington in 26-5 Romp

A revenge minded Marion YMCA wrestling team took the full measure of the Huntington YMCA mat squad Saturday, as the local grapplers handed the host team its first setback of the current season 26-5.

Huntington had defeated the Marion wrestlers in a pre-season scrimmage 27-24. Marion was never in trouble throughout the meet, taking the first four matches in a row and then scoring in the last three of the eight contest card.

Joel Lenavitt, working at 123, ran into siff opposiion from Wintrode, but broke a scoreless tie early in the final period with a four-point barrage to gain the decision win, 4-0.

Bill Thatcher, wrestling at 130, ran up a 4-0 score over Haton before pinning him in 3:25 to place Marion out in front 8-0.

Harry Spring gained his decision victory over Kitt at 137 pounds by scoring in every period to win the contest 6-0. Bud Kelley ran up an impressive 12-point lead over Farber before pinning him at 3:50.

John Keller, wrestling one of the best matches of his short career, refused to be overwhelmed by Ray Selhammer, Huntington's assistant coach and former college wrestler. Keller came within inches of victory scoring points in the first and third periods only to fall short with a 2-4 loss.

Jerry Gibson, wrestling in place of Jim Jones, lived up to the confidence put in his abilities by stopping Shull 4-2. Both men scored in the first stanza to deadlock the score at 2-2, but Gibson rallied in the second frame to ice the match.

Clyde Thomas stopped Holley cold by running op a 6-0 first period score and then working to the terminating hold at 3:35 to give Marion a 24-3 margin with one match to go.

Pete Wolfinger, wrestling his first match in Marion tights, gained a tie with Osgood to set the final score at 26-5. Wolfinger scored in the second period to break a deadlock, but Osgood came back in the third session to knot the match score at 1-1.

Marion's next home meet, will be Saturday, against North Canton High School. The match will begin at 2 p.m.

"The only real difference between ourselves and Huntington, was the tremendous desire to win of our boys," Coach Dean Ludwig said today.

Motorist Injured In Galion Accident

BUCYRUS — A 37-year-old Galion man was admitted to Galion Community Hospital for treatment of a cerebral concussion and back injuries after his car overturned on N. Dice Rd. late Saturday.

Investigating patrolmen of the Bucyrus post said the northbound auto driven by John D. Gates swerved off the left side of the road and flipped over in a ditch.

According to the report, the auto was badly damaged in the accident five miles east of Bucyrus. It occurred at 5:35 p.m.

Patrolmen said Gates was taken to the hospital in a Volk-Richardson ambulance.

Charles H. Jones, 45, of near Galion, was charged with unsafe operation and cited to appear in Galion mayor's court after an accident Saturday at 4 p.m. on Jackson Township Rd. 77, one mile southwest of Crestline.

His westbound auto ran off the left side of the road and smashed into a telephone pole when he apparently fell asleep at the wheel, officers noted. The car was badly damaged, but the driver escaped injury.

MCI Bows to Former Collegiate Stars 88-54

The Marion Correctional Institution's basketball squad dropped an 88-54 verdict to the highly-touted Alpha Grill squad of Columbus Saturday afternoon.

The Columbus team, composed of former cage stars at Ohio State and Capital universities, managed only a 14-12 lead in the first quarter and the scrappy MCI squad trailed only 38-31 at the half. Then the invaders' height began to take its toll.

Frank Howard, former OSU star, gained control of both boards and Mike Outcalt, former Capital ace, found the range with his hook shot. The winners carried a 62-47 cushion into the last period.

Cliff Byrd led the MCI attack, pumping in 26 markers and Yazum added 13. Howard was high for the winners with 23 while Outcalt scored 19. Jim Hartley and Ken Sidle, both former OSU stars, scored 12 and 11 points respectively.

MCI

Taylor 4-0-8; Mannon 0-0-0; Kellom 4-2-10; Jefferson 0-0-0; Posey 2-3-7; Yazum 61-13; Byrd 9-8-26.

Motion Overruled

Amish Lose First Round In Battle Over Schools

KENTON — The Hardin County Amish lost their first round in their battle to keep their private schools open in this county.

Common Pleas Judge Arthur D. Tudor Saturday overruled a motion by Attorney E. Guy Hammond of Cuyahoga Falls which would have stricken many of the county's contentions in the case.

The county board of education has filed a suit seeking to close the two Amish schools because they allegedly fail to meet minimum state standards.

—:—

MR. HAMMOND, 76-year-old semi-retired lawyer, volunteered to represent the Amish in their battle. Mr. Hammond was given 10 days in which to file a demurrer to the court's action of Saturday.

Defendants in the case are 39 Amishmen, including Enos Stutzman, farmer and leader of the agrarian sect in this county.

The case involves an elementary school six miles southeast of Kenton and another seven miles southwest of here. There are about 50 pupils in the eight grades taught at the two schools.

County Supt. Frank Blackburn says his investigation of the schools showed that the Amish teach no graded courses in geography, American and Ohio history, natural sciences, government and other state-required subjects. He also charged that Amish teachers are not certified and that three of the four teaching in Hardin County have had only eight grades of formal education.

Mr. Hammond said he was not interested in the Amish from a religious standpoint, even though the lawyer himself was once president of the Cuyahoga Falls district of the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of the Latter Day Saints (Mormons). He said he was mainly concerned with how far the state can go in forcing its will.

IN HIS BRIEF which was overruled, Mr. Hammond asked the court to strike a number of items from the county charges and indicated religion and economic aspects were his main points of defense.

He attacked in particular the county's "lumping" of Amish parents and the failure to treat them as individuals. He asked that each parent be named and the parent of each child outline specifically.

The attorney noted that "He (God) has as many indivduals to keep track of as the attendance officer and we should be careful not to discharge the individuality of those under our power."

Mr. Hammond also noted that under the tenets of the Amish sect members are not obliged to obey laws if they conflict with the sect's interpretation of the Bible on morality, education and economics. He said compliance with the state orders would interfere with the well being of the sect.

The economic damage would come, he said, because children no longer would be allowed to pursue their agricultural education and life.

Ceramics Class Planned For Members of YMCA

Plans to offer a ceramics class for beginners were announced today by the YMCA staff.

The six-week program will begin Monday, Feb. 2, with both men and women invited to participate. Mrs. Betty Biddle, former ceramics instructor in Augusta, Ga. and current instructor in the Ladies Day Out program, will teach the course.

The class will begin with the simple fundamentals of ceramics, progressing to use of the YMCA kiln. The organization will furnish most materials necessary for a small fee. Other equipment will need to be provided by the student.

Cost of the program will be $3 for YMCA members and $5 for non-members. For registration information telephone 2-0144. Officials said the course will not be offered unless 12 students register in advance of the first meeting.

Saga of a Deer

POUGHKEEPSIE, N.Y. (AP)—Afloat on a floe was a doe. She was trapped, with no place to go.

A Coast Guard lasso brought her in tow.

And that was the end of her woe.

That is the saga of a deer floating down the Hudson River on a cold Sunday afternoon.

Do FALSE TEETH Rock, Slide or Slip?

FASTEETH, an improved powder to be sprinkled on upper or lower plates, holds false teeth more firmly in place. Do not slide, slip or rock. No gummy, gooey, pasty taste or feeling. FASTEETH is alkaline (non-acid). Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug counter.

School Comes First

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Carolyn Sue Haag likes school so much she has turned down a chance to attend inauguration ceremonies for Alaska's governor next Saturday.

The 16-year-old honor student, whose father works for an Alaskan company, received an official invitation to attend Gov. William A. Egan's inaugural in Juneau.

"I would like to go," Carolyn said. "But I think school is more important."

Carolyn, a junior, has not missed a day of high school.

Arouses Suspicion

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)—An 8-year-old boy, swaggering around a bowling alley with a fistful of money Sunday, aroused suspicions and police were called. Detective James Parker said the boy finally admitted he had just burglarized two homes, taking $100 from a dresser drawer at one, and a $150 watch at the other. The watch and all but $2.60 of the money were recovered.

Piles Are Never "Mild"
DANGER IN NEGLECT

No one should ever think of piles (hemorrhoids) as a "mild" disorder.

Although they may seem a "mild" ailment, especially when not giving pain or inconvenience, piles are in fact tumor formations without tendency to heal themselves; instead, they are likely, if neglected to keep increasing in size, involving more of the rectal area.

Even a so-called "mild" case may be expected to undermine one's health, by aggravating other ailments, such as indigestion, biliousness, stomach trouble, constipation, headaches, pain in back and down the legs, secondary anemia with its run-down tired feeling, and general nervous irritability.

Removal of piles is the only permanent relief. Our method produces little or no discomfort, does not require the use of knife or drugs, and seldom any loss of time from work.

We do not treat cancer.

Why not call and learn of this method? The examination is free.
